the political marginalization of women in the habe states of northern nigeria began with the introduction of islam in the 11th century and was virtually completed by the fulani conquest of the habe states in the 19th century calloway 1987 11 18 formal british rule imposed early in the 20th century reinforced this trend in southern nigeria by excluding women from many of their diverse and substantial political roles post independence nigerian governments have attempted to reverse this situation by including a limited number of women in government but this tokenism has neither met the need for sexual equality of representation in government nor ensured stability through a diversified distribution of power progressive but limited action is being taken as more serious thought is given to the problem of eliminating the gender biases of the nigerian political system edited by s jay kleinberg this volume investigates the role played by women in ancient more recent and contemporary history and demonstrates that taking into account the activities of women radically alters the perspectives of historians solomon and higgins have chosen excerpts from the great philosophical texts and combined them with the most exciting new work of philosophers writing today it examines the mysteries of erotic love from a variety of philosophical perspectives and provides an impressive display of wisdom that the world s best thinkers have brought and continue to bring to the study of love
