the yellow wallpaper is a 6 000 word short story by american writer charlotte perkins gilman first published in january 1892 in new england magazine it is regarded as an important early work of american feminist literature illustrating attitudes in the 19th century toward women's physical and mental health the story is written in the first person as a series of journal entries the narrator is a woman whose husband a physician has confined her to the upstairs bedroom of a house he has rented for the summer she is forbidden from working and has to hide her journal entries from him so that she can recuperate from what he has diagnosed as a temporary nervous depression a slight hysterical tendency a diagnosis common to women in that period the windows of the room are barred and there is a gate across the top of the stairs allowing her husband to control her access to the rest of the house the story illustrates the effect of confinement on the narrator's mental health and her descent into psychosis with nothing to stimulate her she becomes obsessed by the pattern and color of the room's wallpaper the yellow wallpaper original title the yellow wall paper a story is a short story by american writer charlotte perkins gilman first published in january 1892 in the new england magazine it is regarded as an important early work of american feminist literature due to its illustration of the attitudes towards mental and physical health of women in the 19th century narrated in the first person the story is a collection of journal entries written by a woman whose physician husband john has rented an old mansion for the summer forgoing other rooms in the house the couple moves into the upstairs nursery as a form of treatment the unnamed woman is forbidden from working and is encouraged to eat well and get plenty of air so she can recuperate from what he calls a temporary nervous depression a slight hysterical tendency a diagnosis common to women during that period doctor's orders confine a woman suffering from anxiety and depression to her bedroom in an effort to prevent mental stimulation of any sort despite her forced rest cure she continues to write in her journal when her husband isn't looking her entries record her terrible and growing fascination with the hideous yellow wallpaper that dominates the room documenting her slow descent into madness this work by american author charlotte perkins gilman was based on the author's own experiences she knew firsthand that the nineteenth century medical establishment often had dangerously misguided ideas about women's mental and physical health it is considered to be a seminal feminist work by some a prime example of gothic horror by others first published in 1892 this is an unabridged version of gilman's controversial short story in the longseller's collection you will find the most read and loved books of all time published in 1892 the yellow wallpaper became a classic whenever we talk about feminist literature the story told in the format of a diary tells the story of a woman confined to a room in a country house under the pretext of treating a condition of depression and hysteria lonely and having her life closely controlled by her husband she begins to obsess over the wallpaper in her room charlotte perkins gilman is regarded as pioneer in american feminism also known for the utopian feminist novel herland and its sequel with her in ourland this book includes 10 short stories by the author including the yellow wallpaper and an essay by the author about her creative process called why i wrote the yellow wallpaper we hope you ll love this book as much we do and don t forget to check the rest of the collection for more beloved classics
