seekers after jesus today feel akin to those who first wondered about him but the answers to jesus question who do people say that i am seems less familiar prophet teacher and elijah have been traded in for new cynic philosopher charismatic rabbi failed revolutionary and emissary of sophia this jesus points to a jesus of history who makes sense within the world of palestinian judaism in an age in which scholars continue to produce books on the nature and significance of jesus s death books that often assume the old testament cult was the new testament authors primary background for their conception of jesus s death jarvis j williams offers a fresh and novel contribution regarding both the nature of and background influences behind paul s conception of jesus s death he argues that paul s conception of jesus s death both as an atoning sacrifice and as a saving event for jews and gentiles was significantly influenced by maccabean martyr theology to argue his thesis williams engages in an intense exegesis of 2 and 4 maccabees while also interacting with other second temple jewish texts that are relevant to his thesis williams further interacts with relevant old testament texts and the key texts in the pauline corpus he argues that the authors of 2 and 4 maccabees present the deaths of the jewish martyrs during the reign of antiochus epiphanes iv as atoning sacrifices and as a saving event for israel he further argues that although the old testament s cultic language certainly influenced paul s understanding of jesus s death at certain junctures in his letters the old testament cult alone which emphasized animal sacrifices cannot fully explain why or even how paul could conceive of jesus s death a human sacrifice as both an atoning sacrifice and a saving event for jews and gentiles finally williams highlights the lexical theological and conceptual parallels between martyr theology and paul s conception of jesus s death even if scholars disagree with williams s thesis or methodology serious

Pauline scholars interested in the background influences behind and the nature and significance of Jesus's death in Paul's theology will want to interact with this work.

This three volume set addresses how the role of spirituality and its constructive expressions in various religions and outside of formal religion enhances human personality and experience. Theologian and acclaimed scholar J. Harold Ellens now offers a breakthrough work on the positive impact of faith in the healing power of spirituality and religion. An extraordinary group of scholars discuss the latest scientific research into the connection between belief and psychological and physical well-being. Each volume of the healing power of spirituality focuses on a specific aspect of the scientific exploration of faith and well-being. Volume one examines the healing power of personal spiritualities like I Ching and Transcendentalism. Volume two looks at the subject in the context of Christianity, Judaism, and other world faiths. Volume three explores the psychodynamics of healing spirituality and religion, including the role of biochemical and chemical reactions in heightening psychospiritual apperception.

This volume offers a comprehensive discussion of all relevant sources concerning Jewish martyrdom in antiquity by viewing these narratives together, tracing their development and comparing them to other traditions. The authors seek to explore how Jewish is Jewish martyrdom to this end. They analyse the impact of the changing social and religious cultural circumstances and the interactions with Graeco-Roman and Christian traditions. This results in the identification of important continuities and discontinuities. Consequently, while political ideals that are prominent in 2 and 4 Maccabees are remarkably absent from rabbinic sources, the latter reveal a growing awareness of Christian motifs and discourse.

Understanding the person of Christ affects our understanding of all Christian theology. All ten contributors to this volume share a commitment to the Orthodox theological tradition in Christology as expressed in the creational heritage of the Christian church and seek to explicate the continuing coherence and importance of that theological tradition the book's ten essays cover such topics as prolegomena to christology the incarnation the person and nature of christ the communicatio idiomatum the baptism of christ the redemptive work of christ the ascended christ and new testament christology and offers critical engagements with such diverse theologians as john calvin charles williams and john zizioulas the contributors all leading academics include john webster richard burridge robert jenson stephen holmes douglas farrow brian horne murray douglas knight sandra fach christoph schwoebel what does it mean to say that god offers salvation to humanity what is this salvation and how can we become more conscious of it in our lives these are the questions that robert krieg faces in treasure in the field while his intent is certainly to impart information and ideas found in scripture church teaching and theology it is also to illumine our own experiences krieg retrieves the bible's teaching on salvation and expresses it in contemporary terms drawing deeply from scripture he defines salvation as god's gift of personal identity of wholeness in this perspective god calls us not to invent ourselves but to discover ourselves as god intends us to be those who gradually make this discovery become grateful recipients who give themselves and their talents for the well being of other people and creation robert a krieg is professor of theology at the university of notre dame he is the editor and translator of romano guardini spiritual writings as well as the author of romano guardini a precursor of vatican ii karl adam catholicism in german culture and story shaped christology his work has also appeared in america theological studies worship and many other journals should this would be assassin be considered a christian martyr find out why many think so and what martyrdom means today in this study justin buol analyzes the writings connected with the deaths of ignatius of antioch polycarp of smyrna and pothinus of lyons in light of earlier accounts of the noble deaths of military political and religious leaders from greco roman literature and the bible which record benefits accruing to a group on account of its leader s death the author argues that the accounts of these three bishops martyrdoms draw upon those prior models in order to portray the bishops as dying to unite protect and strengthen the church oppose false teaching and apostasy and solidify the teaching role of the episcopal office finally by providing a foundation for irenaeus to argue for apostolic succession these second century bishop martyrs also help form a lasting contribution to the growth of episcopal power
