this book examines an undertheorized topic in the study of religion and sacred texts the figure of the neighbor by analyzing and comparing this figure in jewish christian and islamic texts and receptions the chapters explore a conceptual shift from children of abraham to ambiguous neighbors through a variety of case studies using diverse methods and material chapters explore the neighbor in these neighboring texts and traditions the figure of the neighbor seems like an innocent topic at the surface it is an everyday phenomenon that everyone have knowledge about and experiences with still analytically it has a rich and innovative potential recent interdisciplinary research employs this figure to address issues of cultural diversity gender migration ethnic relationships war and peace environmental challenges and urbanization the neighbor represents the borderline between insider and outsider friend and enemy us and them this ambiguous status makes the neighbor particularly interesting as an entry point into issues of cultural complexity self definition and identity this volume brings all the intersections of religion ethnicity gender and socio cultural diversity into the same neighborhood paying attention to sacred texts receptions and contemporary communities the ambiguous figure of the neighbor in jewish christian and islamic texts and receptions offers a fascinating study of the intersections between jewish christian and islamic text and will be of interest to anyone working on these traditions neighbours is a short drama by chekhov about zina a young woman who leaves her home for a married man this scandalous behaviour plagues the mind of zina s brother pyotr who believes that she has been abducted and deceived but is too fearful to help her as zina s family is ashamed of her behaviour pyotr sets out to bring her home before news of her affair is widely known pyotr confronts his sister and her lover but to achieve his goal he must overcome his cowardice a story that explores the eternal clash between conservative and liberal values neighbours is a social critique that contrasts zina s freedom and joy with the timid pyotr s fear of breaking social conventions neighbours portrays chekhov s lyrical prose at its finest and features some of his most memorable characters this dramatic and poignant short should be read by fans of raymond carver and john cheever a prolific writer of seven plays a novel and hundreds of short stories anton chekhov 1860 1904 is considered one of the best practitioners of the short story genre in literature true to life and painfully morbid with his miserable and realistic depictions of russian everyday life chekhov s characters drift between humour melancholy artistic ambition and death some of his best known works include the plays uncle vanya the seagull and the cherry orchard where chekhov dramatizes and portrays social and existential problems his short stories unearth the mysterious beneath the ordinary situations the failure and horror present in everyday life

g k chesterton 1874 1936 was an important figure in the edwardian literary world he engaged closely with the vibrant new influences in literature and reviewed a stream of new editions biographies and memoirs for the daily news this critical edition includes all of his contributions to the daily news from 1901 to 1913 neighbourly relations frequently position a self against an other this is the case for both individuals and nations and indeed within the various cultural groups of a nation our racial ethnic social or gender identities are often created in demarcating ourselves by stereotyping the other disrespect of the immediate neighbour based on stereotypical pre conceptions and cultural biases may lie dormant for a long time and then as shown in recent conflicts around the globe suddenly surface due to changed economic and political conditions media including films and fictional as well as non fictional texts feature prominently in producing propagating and maintaining cultural difference and stereotypes in ideologically effective ways this volume analyses representations from various angles as it comprises articles dealing with ethnic groups and neighbourhoods from three world areas as well as genres and media instrumental to their respective cultural stereotyping this focus on literary and media representations of the neighbourly other from miscellaneous cultural environments results in a comprehensive understanding of analogies and differences in the mechanisms of production and perception of stereotypes addressing the manifold discourses at the heart of stereotyping the familiar other the book also points to their far reaching repercussions on lived cultural practices
