presenting new opportunities in the dialogue between philosophy and theology this interdisciplinary text addresses the contemporary reshaping of intellectual boundaries exploring human experience in a post christian era the distinguished contributors bring to bear what have been traditionally seen as theological resources while drawing on contemporary developments in philosophy both continental and analytic set in the context of two complementary narratives one philosophical concerning secularity the other theological about the question of god the authors point to ways of reconfiguring both traditional reason faith oppositions and those between interpretation text and language experience contributors david brown philip clayton chris firestone grace jantzen nicholas lash george pattison dan stiver charles taylor kevin vanhoozer graham ward martin warner the history of the human world has reached a stage where no philosophical community can any longer philosophize in isolation from other philosophical communities the african philosophical community is not an exception and neither is any other philosophical community there is a widespread notion in the west that philosophy originated in greece and found its way throughout europe from where it migrated to africa this book argues that philosophy did not migrate to african from anywhere but that it is radically native to all communities the chapters cover the erasure of african philosophy african philosophical departures the threat that christianity has posed to african philosophy african legal philosophy african musical aesthetics and connections with classical philosophy arguing that the landscape of philosophy has a place not only for africans but also for all human beings and that african philosophers are among the architects of this landscape this book is an important read for scholars and students of african philosophy throughout his career kant engaged with many of the fundamental questions in philosophy of religion arguments for the existence of god the soul the problem of evil and the relationship between moral belief and practice religion within the boundaries of mere reason is his major work on the subject this book offers a complete and internally cohesive interpretation of religion in contrast to more reductive interpretations as well as those that characterize religion as internally inconsistent lawrence r pasternack defends the rich philosophical theology contained in each of religion s four parts and shows how the doctrines of the pure rational system of religion are eminently compatible with the essential principles of transcendental idealism the book also presents and assesses the philosophical background to religion within the boundaries of mere reason the ideas and arguments of the text the continuing importance of kant s work to philosophy of religion today this book utilizes philosophical tools to build up a framework for the classification analysis and assessment of political cinema the author first maps the category of political cinema clarifying what it means for a film to be political and then analyzes the relation between the value of a film as a political film and its value as art through philosophical enquiry angelo emanuele cioffi builds up a framework that could be of use in art critical practice and that can help with the classification and assessment of political films grounded in analytic philosophy of art and cognitivist film theory with insights from political science political philosophy epistemology and cognitive science the book presents a unique analysis of the relation between films and the political this theory is tested with detailed case studies and the author uses specific films as examples of the applicability and explanatory power of this theoretical framework as such this book will be of interest not just to film studies film theory and political philosophy scholars but to anyone with an interest in political film aesthetic practice and philosophy of art
