one of the central events of modern history world war i has been poorly presented in english language films torn between the powerful isolationist movement in the u s and a growing hatred of the hun contemporary films were mainly propaganda calling citizens to arms the american film industry used the outbreak of the war and the government's interest in promoting patriotic sacrifice as a means to expand and take the lead in the film industry worldwide more a business model than an art form these early efforts claimed a place of respectability for film among the arts twenty years later though films produced about the war were few they were technically superior and generally carried conflicting messages about the war's mission and value while focusing more on storyline than history this study of english language world war ii films examines nearly 350 films from 1914 to 2014 descriptions and critiques of each of the films are included with stories and details about the actors and directors

Historical, personal, and technical aspects of the Second World War are explored in this six-book series. Each book examines a different facet of the war, from the military machines and battles to the leaders who brought their people through the terrible times. Details of military weaponry, battle plans, and personalities will bring this conflict alive for readers.

This anthology contains 16 readings that deal with military, political, diplomatic, and social aspects of WWII and its consequences for the contemporary world. The readings are grouped around seven major topics, and each topic is prefaced with commentary by Lee. The readings consist of complete articles or integral chapters rather than abridged selections, so that each author's argument can be read in its original form. Even as a young man, Hitler was often angry when things didn't go his way. He always looked for someone to blame. After Germany was defeated in World War I, Hitler became determined to rebuild it into the most feared power on earth. At the heart of Hitler's determination was an evil plan to destroy those he blamed for Germany's loss: the Jewish people. Meanwhile, on the other side of the world, Japanese armies swept through China and the Pacific, taking over lands and terrorizing citizens of the conquered countries. Before long, Japan and Germany joined forces, believing that nothing could bring them down. However, those who believed in freedom and justice also joined forces. Soon, the world was in a war of unimaginable death and destruction. In the end, the evil would be defeated.
