christians have always felt a duty to explain and defend their faith but in today's global village that duty can easily become a burden what can christians say to hindus to third world communists to agnostic social or natural sciences no creed or catechism can adequately deal with all the challenges to christianity what we need is a comprehensive model of the christian faith one that can meet widely varied challenges without compromising the gospel after describing how christians have done apologetics in the past william dyrness sketches a model for effective apologetics in the twenty first century he shows how his model relates to various non christian philosophies as well as how it speaks to many christian concerns including the problem of suffering the education of many third world leaders by christian missionaries is a decisive factor in world politics today christian missionaries from a diversity of backgrounds africans as well as americans and europeans contributed to the construction destruction and reconstruction of state structures in africa and the caribbean through educational activity and attempts at healing and trade as well as by preaching prayer and other sacramental endeavours this is a study of christian missionaries and the state in the third world
