this monograph proposes 7 principles of human memory these principles are qualitative statements of empirical regularities that can serve as intermediary explanations and which follow from viewing memory as a function

this volume offers an overview of some emerging trends and structural patterns in the development of international law highlighting its evolution over the course of time and discussing leading principles through various different thematic lenses in judgments of beauty in theory evaluation devon brickhouse bryson argues that judgments of beauty are a justified part of theory evaluation of all sorts including both scientific theory evaluation and philosophical theory evaluation he supports this argument with an account of beauty inherited from kant and mothersill on which the distinctive nature of judgments of beauty is that they are unprincipled yet possible brickhouse bryson analyzes two important methods of theory evaluation reflective equilibrium and simplicity and argues that these methods require making judgments of beauty understood he further argues that these methods of theory evaluation are not anomalies but that they point to a deeper lesson about the nature of theorizing and the necessity of using judgments of beauty to evaluate systems like theories this book has implications for the debate in philosophy of science over judgments of beauty and also prompts a reckoning in philosophy itself over the use of judgments of beauty in philosophical theory evaluation in the course of a single investor state dispute an arbitrator may make numerous decisions from interpreting the treaty or national laws to taking into account case law customs and policies in practice this process raises important issues regarding the consistency of decisions and the predictability and legitimacy of the decision making process in general investment arbitration tribunals have developed a specialised process of legal decision making adapted to the interpretational needs that arise in the context of an investor state dispute and to the transnational characteristics of the investment arbitration framework this is the first book to offer an in depth analysis of the transnational characteristics of investment arbitration and to analyse the interpretive arguments of investment tribunals and the way they use treaties precedent policies general principles of law and customary law in their decision making process drawing on publicly available arbitral case law supplemented with personal interviews with investment arbitrators the author touches on such concepts and practices as the following an overview of various decision making genres of arbitral tribunals attitudinal economic strategic and legal the legal argumentation triptych of language rhetoric dialogue the specific language arbitrators have developed when interpreting the law how arbitrators use the concepts standards rules principles and rights the importance of the legal reasoning of arbitral awards and the role of rhetoric therein concepts of acceptability audience and legitimacy limitations of the public international law interpretive methodology enshrined in the vienna convention interpretation of precedents customary law general principles of law and policies the way national and international legal orders interact in the context of interpretation and how decision making is connected to the issues of predictability consistency and the rule of law the core of the book proposes a novel full edged dialogical network theory for analysing the interpretation process as an exemplary demonstration of developing theory to keep up with practice this unique book provides a deeply engaged means for enhancing the practice of international arbitration its introduction of a new field of interdisciplinary analysis employing legal argumentation theories is sure to provide inestimable guidance for institutions and policymakers especially in light of recent proposals for the creation of a permanent investment arbitration court given that unveiling the legal decision making process is critical for the well being of the whole dispute resolution procedure and that being aware of how arbitrators interpret the law can constitute a roadmap for counsel s arguments and approaches when dealing with cross border disputes the topic of this book is relevant for both academics and practitioners and its significance can only grow as recourse to investor state arbitration continues to expand this book takes an in depth look at how education and psychology relate to each other and at the current state of this relationship through comprehensive analysis of the ideological historical social and professional contexts of this interaction the author develops the theme that despite basic differences in aims the fields are interconnected this is the first of a two volume series that examines the current eu capital markets regimes and explores codification as a means for achieving a true single market for capital in europe
