this book stages a series of interventions and inventions of urban space between 1880 and 1930 in key literary texts of the period making sharp distinctions between modernity and modernism the volume reassesses the city as a series of singular sites irreducible to stable identities concluding with an extended reading of the waste land lazy and indifferent shaking space easily from his wings knowing his way the heron passes over the church beneath the sky a writer is trying to capture things in words wanting to be truthful but as anymore who has ever tried to write anything knows distractions are never far off a cry from the left a cry from the right a clock that strikes twelve but maybe that is not a bad thing you may find that reading monday or tuesday is a disorientating experience it is supposed to be as simple as it is woolf shows you exactly what it is like to be a writer and what it means the find truth adeline virginia woolf 1882 1941 was an english writer who despite growing up in a progressive household was not allowed an education when she and her sister moved in with their brothers in a rough london neighborhood they joined the infamous the bloomsbury group which debated philosophy art and politics woolf s most famous novels include mrs dalloway 1925 and to the lighthouse 1927 whatever hour you woke there was a door shutting from room to room they went hand in hand lifting here opening there making sure a ghostly couple here we left it she said and he added oh but here too it s upstairs she murmured and in the garden he whispered quietly they said or we shall wake them but it wasn t that you woke us oh no they re looking for it they re drawing the curtain one might say and so read on a page or two now they ve found it one would be certain stopping the pencil on the margin and then tired of reading one might rise and see for oneself the house all empty the doors standing open only the wood pigeons bubbling with content and the hum of the threshing machine sounding from the farm what did i come in here for what did i want to find my hands were empty perhaps it s upstairs then the apples were in the loft and so down again the garden still as ever only the book had slipped into the grass a haunted house that holds the mystery of the human heart a challenge to read the contents of a library that reveals how dismally bad all too many books are five faces in a train compartment that among them become an unwritten novel a garden that holds the memory of love monday or tuesday contains eight beautiful tales from the strange beautiful mind of virginia woolf one of the 20th century s most innovative and most disturbing and most disturbed writers this gorgeous collection reveals woolf s style and imagination in all their delicate brilliance
