originally published in 1998 and covering a tradition ignored by most critics this bibliography assembles and documents a large body of supernatural fiction written by women in english from the end of the 18th century to the present these stories the work of women whose literary reputations personal histories and bodies of work vary widely challenge the narrow way in which supernatural literature has traditionally been regarded they indicate a much richer and more complex set of literary responses to the supernatural than has been hitherto acknowledged the writers included range from ann radcliffe and the gothic novelists to louisa may alcott charlotte gilman and edith wharton to such modern writers as elizabeth bowen jean rhys muriel spark and a s byatt the volume will be of interest to literary and cultural historians and of particular importance to women s studies scholars informed by selected postmodern theories and cultural criticism this study argues that while american fiction of the 1980s and 1990s bears the outward signs of a return to realism it also evidences recurring themes of postmodernism such as alienation social disintegration personal despair historical dislocation and authorial self reflexivity more than ten years in the making this comprehensive single volume literary survey is for the student scholar and general reader the continuum encyclopedia of american literature represents a collaborative effort involving 300 contributors from across the us and canada composed of more than 1100 signed biographical critical entries this encyclopedia serves as both guide and companion to the study and appreciation of american literature a special feature is the topical article of which there are 70
