this handbook offers an overview of the contemporary state of the field in feminist philosophy the editors introduction and forty five essays cover feminist critical engagements with and contributions to philosophy and other scholarly fields as well as feminist approaches to some of the current and crucial issues known across the world the volume provides a rigorous but accessible resource for students and scholars interested in diverse approaches within feminist philosophy and how feminist philosophers situate their work within the philosophical mainstream and other disciplines

the other black church alternative christian movements and the struggle for black freedom examines the movements led by father divine charles mason and albert cleage later known as jaramogi abebe agyeman as alternative christian movements in the middle of the twentieth century that radically re envisioned the limits and possibilities of black citizenship these movements not only rethink the value and import of christian texts and reimagined the role of the black christian prophetic tradition but they also outlined a new model of protest that challenged the language and logic of black essentialism economic development and the role of the state by placing these movements in conversation with the long history of black theology and black religious studies this book suggests that alternative christian movements are essential for thinking about african american critiques of and responses to the failures of u s based democracy these prophets of black theological thought and their attention to the limits of the state and traditional black religious formations are most fully appreciated when studied in light of their conversations and interactions with other key black prophetic and theological figures of the mid twentieth century ultimately the other black church will use those conversations and archives from these movements to highlight their protest of the racial state to explore the limits of the black church and to argue for their continued significance for thinking about the variety and vibrancy of black protest specifically black religious protest during the twentieth century during the past three decades feminist scholars have successfully demonstrated the ubiquity and omnirelevance of gender as a sociocultural construction in virtually all human collectivities past and present intrapsychic interactional and collective social processes are gendered as are micro meso and macro social structures gender shapes and is shaped in all arenas of social life from the most mundane practices of everyday life to those of the most powerful corporate actors contemporary understandings of gender emanate from a large community of primarily feminist scholars that spans the gamut of learned disciplines and also includes non academic activist thinkers however while incorporating some cross disciplinary material this volume focuses specifically on socio logical theories and research concerning gender which are discussed across the full array of social processes structures and institutions as editor i have explicitly tried to shape the contributions to this volume along several lines that reflect my long standing views about sociology in general and gender sociology in particular first i asked authors to include cross national and historical material as much as possible this request reflects my belief that understanding and evaluating the here and now and working realistically for a better future can only be accomplished from a comparative perspective too often american sociology has been both tempero and ethnocentric second i have asked authors to be sensitive to within gender differences along class racial ethnic sexual preference and age cohort lines
