European powers sea of troubles is the definitive account of the European conquest of the Levant and North Africa over three centuries. Ian Rutledge reveals the intense imperial rivalry between six European powers: Britain, France, Italy, Spain, Austria, Hungary, and Russia, who all jostled for control of the trade lands and wealth of the Islamic Mediterranean. The competition between these states made their conquest a far more difficult and extended task than they encountered elsewhere in the world. Yet as new contenders entered the contest and as rivalries intensified in the early twentieth century, events would spiral out of control as the continent headed towards the first world war.

This three-volume work chronicles three decades of the reign of the Mughal Emperor Shahjahan (1628-1658). The first two volumes are by Abdul Hamid Lahauri, and the third volume, now printed for the first time, is by Muhammad Waris. Since it is a court chronicle, the emphasis throughout is on the rise and fall of courtiers, governors, administrators, and military commanders, and on incessant military campaigns in the Deccan, Bengal, and Afghanistan. But valuable details of life at court and the architecture of one of India's most avid builders are also included. This is an indispensable resource for students and scholars of Mughal India, as well as those interested in Persian and Iranian studies.
