since about 1915 integration theory has consisted of two separate branches the abstract theory required by probabilists and the theory preferred by analysts that combines integration and topology as long as the underlying topological space is reasonably nice e g locally compact with countable basis the abstract theory and the topological theory yield the same results but for more complicated spaces the topological theory gives stronger results than those provided by the abstract theory the possibility of resolving this split fascinated us and it was one of the reasons for writing this book the unification of the abstract theory and the topological theory is achieved by using new definitions in the abstract theory the integral in this book is defined in such a way that it coincides in the case of radon measures on hausdorff spaces with the usual definition in the literature as a consequence our integral can differ in the classical case our integral however is more inclusive it was defined in the book c constantinescu and k weber in collaboration with a

although ideally a patent system for pharmaceuticals should serve to incentivize research into the development of new medicines the covid 19 pandemic has exposed the equal importance of drug access and affordability this book by focusing on the brazilian rule which makes the grant of pharmaceutical patents dependent on the prior consent of the national health surveillance agency anvisa shows how the brazilian model affords an example for other countries to follow in dealing with tensions between patent protection and the right to healthcare based on an empirical study in which the author examined 147 reports issued by anvisa as a basis for its decisions the book deals with such central questions concerning the interface of regulation and innovation in the patent system as the following compatibility between anvisa's prior consent mechanism and the trade related aspects of intellectual property rights trips agreement how evergreening and trivial patents undermine public health and access to medicines ways of correcting abuses of patent rights and controlling quality of patents and the discourse on health as a human right along with her examination of anvisa reports the author analyzes how article 229 c lpi which introduced the need of anvisa's prior consent to the patent grant of pharmaceuticals in brazil has been interpreted in brazilian case law interviews with brazilian experts are also included in its commitment to harmonizing patent rights and the right to access of affordable medicines brazil's patent system for pharmaceuticals stands out as a workable response to the basic problem of access to medicines in the developing world by describing the successes and failures in the brazilian policy of promoting drug access this book helps policymakers in developing and emerging countries to better explore trips flexibilities when dealing with similar problems and provides practitioners in the law of the world trade organization patent law competition law and health law with a guide to how a more equitable pharmaceutical patenting system could work in practice
