a handbook of traditional living consists of two texts originally published by the italian cultural organization raido translated here for the first time the world of tradition a comprehensive summary of the principle ideas of julius evola and the front of tradition a more practical guide for living as a traditionalist

the second volume of a handbook of traditional living continues the project of the first to resurrect perennial values for a traditionalist lifestyle in an anti traditional world and to provide concrete and desperately needed advice for those who wish to break free of the spell of a deadening and desert like modernity deeply inspired by julius evola rené guénon and the traditionalism of which they were foremost exponents a handbook of traditional living style and asceticism confronts the fundamental questions of family friendship work genders and marriage religion and spirituality and what it means to be a militant of the tradition in today's increasingly confused and fragmented society the result is a treasure trove of wisdom concisely providing the practical and theoretical bedrock for the traditionalist worldview and ethic in one's day to day life thereby giving new breath to a lifestyle vision and philosophy that has too long been lacking from our world
