this book focuses on the complex network of relationships between the poet uri zvi grinberg and the labor movement in mandate palestine from 1923 to 1937 making use of letters found in the uri zvi grinberg archive at the national library of israel nli the author reconstructs the characteristics of grinberg s pioneer readership attesting to their special relationship with his poetry in the 1920s it is argued they considered grinberg s poetry an authentic expression of their complex spiritual world and especially of the reality of their lives on his side grinberg accepted the pioneering ethos as the ideological basis of his works becoming an outstanding poet of the labor movement the chapters of this book track the various phases of grinberg s life and poetry from his emigration to palestine through to the 1930s when he joined the revisionist movement and became increasingly ostracized from the labor movement the story of grinberg s relations with the pioneers was emotionally charged a mixture of enchantment and rejection spiritual closeness and repulsion ultimately this book analyzes the intensity of this connection and its many contradictory layers this book will interest researchers in a range of fields including hebrew poetry and reception theory as well as anyone interested in israeli studies and the history of the labor movement in palestine gabriel rockhill opens new space for rethinking the relationship between art and politics rather than understanding the two spheres as separated by an insurmountable divide or linked by a privileged bridge rockhill demonstrates that art and politics are not fixed entities with a singular relation but rather dynamically negotiated sociohistorical practices with shifting and imprecise borders radical history and the politics of art proposes a significant departure from extant debates on what is commonly called art and politics and the result is an impressive foray into the force field of history in which cultural practices are meticulously analyzed in their social and temporal dynamism without assuming a conceptual unity behind them rockhill thereby develops an alternative logic of history and historical change as well as a novel account of social practices and a multidimensional theory of agency engaging with a diverse array of intellectual artistic and political constellations this tour de force diligently maps the various interactions between different dimensions of aesthetic and political practices as they intertwine and sometimes merge in precise fields of struggle
