the chronicler distinguishes between traditional prophets and inspired messengers and thereby highlights a radical transition in the meaning of the word of god which takes place in the post exilic period the chronicler summarizes his perspective in 2 chron 36 16 saying that israel rejected his prophets the messengers of god and his word i e torah this distinction is reflected in the forms and functions of prophetic speech in the books of chronicles thus the prophets speak to the king and the inspired messengers e g priests levites speak to the people the prophets interpret narrative events for the king they explain how god acts the inspired messengers exhort the people admonishing them how they should act the prophets speeches usually do not use any kind of inspiration formula but the inspired messengers speeches are prefaced with possession formulas these possession formulas are not typical of classical prophecy and mark the rise of a new kind of prophecy namely the inspired interpretation of texts these inspired messengers are thus forerunners of the inspired interpreters of scripture in qumran early christianity and judaism
