way down is a novel about suicide that is surprisingly full of life stuff i've been reading by nick hornby the bestselling novelist's rich witty and inspiring reading diary read what you enjoy not what bores you nick hornby tells us and in this new collection of his columns from the believer magazine he shows us how it's done from historical tomes to comic books literary novels to children's stories political thrillers to travel writing stuff i've been reading details nick's thoughts and experiences on books by george orwell j m barrie muriel spark claire tomalin charles dickens mark twain jennifer egan ian mcewan cormac mccarthy and many many more this wonderfully entertaining journey in reading differs from all other reviews or critical appreciations it takes into account the role that books actually play in our lives this book which is classic hornby confirms the novelist's status as one of the world's most exciting curators of culture it will be loved by fans of about a boy and high fidelity as well as readers of will self zadie smith stewart lee and charlie brooker an education is nick hornby's oscar nominated screenplay of lynn barber's life based on lynn barber's extraordinary memoir an education is set in the early 1960s and tells the story of a sixteen year old english girl's encounter and relationship with a charming older man who is much more and much less than he says he is taking this strange story as his starting point nick hornby has scripted an oscar nominated film starring carey mulligan and peter sarsgaard which is funny and shocking in equal measure and which brilliantly captures a britain emerging from the sleepy 50s and on the brink of a glittering new decade fans of british writing and cinema alike from brighton rock to atonement will enjoy this mesmerizing book all i have to say about these songs is that i love them and want to sing along to them and force other people to listen to them and get cross when these other people don't like them as much as i do nick hornby from songbook a wise and hilarious collection from the bestselling author of dickens and prince just like you funny girl and about a boy songs songwriters and why and how they get under our skin songbook is nick hornby's labor of love a shrewd funny and completely unique collection of musings on pop music why it's good what makes us listen and love it and the ways in which it attaches itself to our lives all with the beat of a perfectly mastered mix tape a charming funny touching and relevant comedy the boston globe a provocative yet sweet romantic comedy people best of fall 2020 from the beloved author of dickens and prince about a boy and high fidelity this warm wise highly entertaining twenty first century love story is about what happens when the person who makes you happiest is someone you never expected lucy used to handle her adult romantic life according to the script she'd been handed she met a guy just like herself same age same background same hopes and dreams they got married and started a family too bad he made her miserable now two decades later she's a nearly divorced forty one year old schoolteacher with two school aged sons and there is no script anymore so when she meets joseph she isn't exactly looking for love she's more in the market for a babysitter joseph is twenty two living at home with his mother and working several jobs including the butcher counter where he and lucy meet it's not a match anyone one could have predicted he's of a different class a different culture and a different generation but sometimes it turns out that the person who can make you happiest is the one you least expect though it can take some maneuvering to see it through just like you is a brilliantly observed tender but also brutally funny new novel that gets to the heart of what it means to fall surprisingly and headlong in love with the best possible person someone you didn't see coming extremely funny and wise sunday times now a major motion picture can i explain why i wanted to jump off the top of a tower block for disgraced tv presenter martin sharp the answer's pretty simple he has in his own words pissed his life away and on new year's eve he's going to end it all but not as it happens alone because first single mum maureen then eighteen year old jess and lastly american rock god jj turn up and crash martin's private party they've stolen his idea but brought their own reasons yet it's hard to jump when you've got an audience queuing impatiently behind you a few heated words and some slices of cold pizza later and these four strangers are suddenly allies but is their unlikely friendship a good enough reason to carry on living shortlisted for the 2005 whitbread award and the commonwealth writers prize a long way down is a darkly hilarious and moving novel by bestselling author nick hornby hornby's best yet literary review impossible to put down ruth rendell guardian some of the finest writing i've ever had the pleasure of reading johnny depp

the person you are with is just like you same background same age same interests the perfect match and it is an unmitigated disaster then when and where you least expect it you meet someone new you seem to have nothing in common and yet somehow it feels totally right a new collection of nonfiction writing on culture from the bestselling author of high fidelity and dickens and prince books movies rhythm blues brings together the best of nick hornby's non-fiction pieces on film and tv writers and painters and music and including one exceptional fragment of autobiography with subject matter ranging from the sundance festival to abbey road studios from p g wodehouse to the west wing these are pieces that were written for fun or because i felt i had things to say and time to say them or because the commissions were unusual and imaginative or because i was being asked to go somewhere i had never been before
