this original book systematically examines japan s defense engagement with its strategic partners since the end of the cold war based on japan s national security strategy the author maps three defense engagement activities military exercises capacity building and defense equipment transfer and technology cooperation and subsequently evaluates these against the three national security objectives deterrence cooperative security and the free and open indo pacific vision the book asks two important research questions why is japan active in defense engagement with the armed forces of its strategic partners and what purposes do japan s self defense forces pursue through the ten carefully selected cases of strategic partners australia india indonesia vietnam the philippines asean the uk france nato and the eu the book follows a structured cross case comparison based on the analytical framework developed for the research it also discusses the evolution of japan s postwar defense policy providing a solid background for the case studies the book overall argues that while the japan us alliance is still the most indispensable japan s strategic partnerships are a valuable instrument of deterrence that contributes to japan s national security objectives in order to more effectively pursue these objectives and thus secure the national interest japan must pursue a purpose driven defense engagement
