this study of ten fateful decisions made on indochina between 1961 75 highlights the ascent of the civilian militarists and of strategy over diplomacy in united states policymaking and reveals the inexorably interlinked and escalating character of the decisions and the central purpose of american presidents not to have to face the expected domestic political consequences of defeat in indochina as a result we were led into a prolonged stalemate in which acting and the management of programs became a more important preoccupation than thinking about our purposes and values in which analysis become wholly subjective and therefore defective and in which decision making occurred in a closed system which did not allow for divergent inputs tracing presidential administrations since lyndon b johnson this book argues that the trump administration s policy toward israeli settlements in the west bank and jerusalem is not an aberration but the culmination of over 50 years of american foreign policy under the johnson administration the united states rhetorically supported the applicability of international law regarding israeli settlements however throughout the 1970s administrations did little to reverse the construction and expansion of settlements moreover presidents sent mixed signals regarding israel s withdrawal from the occupied territories the israeli settlement movement received support when reagan argued that settlements were not illegal since then american presidents have opposed settlement activity to various degrees but not based on their illegality rather presidents have described them as unwise unhelpful or obstacles to peace even when presidents have had opportunities to confront israeli settlements directly domestic pressure and america s special relationship with israel have prevented serious action beyond rhetoric and condemnation this volume will be of interest to scholars and students of the history and politics of american foreign policy american relations with israel and the israeli palestinian conflict
