the chief focus of the book is on the symbolic and linguistic the purpose is to develop an integrated theory of architectural description and architectural intention and this includes the intention of the user as well as that of the designer insofar as architecture is an art norberg schulz is a practicing architect his buildings stand in several countries and he elucidates the nature of architectural reality with a practiced eye and from a practical viewpoint although the methods and theory that his book develops are uncompromisingly rigorous and tightly formed they are everywhere related to actual building through specific examples and through the use of over 100 photographs the structure that norberg schulz has fashioned is surely one of the most impressive intellectual edifices that any architect has ever produced the materials that are organically worked into it include gestalt psychology the mechanics of perception information theory modern analytic philosophy and in particular linguistic analysis and the general theory of signs and symbols the result however is not an eclectic hodge podge all these materials have their place and purpose none is applied extraneously for show or purely decorative effect and all this divergent material had to be joined according to plan within formal bounds in order to produce a theory with equally divergent applications one that can treat not only of the aesthetics of architecture but equally well of its social psychological and cultural effects the chief focus of the book is on the symbolic and linguistic the purpose is to develop an integrated theory of architectural description and architectural intention and this includes the intention of the user as well as that of the designer insofar as architecture is an art christian norberg schulz s interpretation of heidegger s philosophy investigates the theoretical contribution of the world renowned norwegian architectural theorist christian norberg schulz 1926 2000 and considers his architectural interpretation of the writings of german philosopher martin heidegger though widely recognised as providing the most comprehensive reading of heideggerian philosophy through the lens of architecture this book argues that norberg schulz neglected one of the key aspects of the philosopher s contributions the temporal nature of being in the world as care the undeveloped architectural implications of the ontological concept of care in his work prevented the fruition of his ultimate aim transforming the art of place into an art of living this book seeks to realign norberg schulz s understanding of time as continuity and change to present a holistic approach grounded in heidegger s phenomenological philosophy architecture as art of care aimed at academics and scholars in architectural theory history and philosophy christian norberg schulz s interpretation of heidegger s philosophy surveys the implications and significance of the theorist s works on architectural criticism in the late 20th century translated by thomas mcquillan architecture is a manifestation of the environment in which it is placed observes distinguished architect and theoretician christian norberg schulz a simple enough observation but one that becomes subtle and nuanced in this landmark book which attempts to define for the first time what nordic building really is norberg schulz begins by contrasting the natural world of the north with that of the mediterranean the nordic unendingness against the sun saturated and homogeneous south using themes such as natural domestic universal and foreign he finds the architecture of both regions sensibly related to their environments but whereas the south lends itself to abstraction the north is marked by variation openness and dynamism by low light forests and space exploring the ways built experience takes place norberg schulz charts the distinctive character of land and climate that distinguishes denmark s sweden s finland s and norway s architectural traditions from each other and from those to the south while each of these countries might be said to share regional traits norberg schulz identifies differences the cultivated and closely detailed landscape and architecture of denmark the dramatic structured forms of norway that allow him to account for the way individual nordic architectures evolved this book examines the window in the life and work of the seminal architectural thinker christian norberg schulz 1926 2000 it draws new attention to his architectural designs and re examines his acclaimed theoretical work on the phenomenology of architecture and place within the context of a biography of his life linking him with other historical figures such as helen keller and rainer maria rilke and framing him within the modernist tradition of the latter taking a novel experimental approach the book also explores the potential of the essay film as an innovative new approach to producing architectural history bridging archival research and artistic exploration its ten chapters written by an architectural historian who is also a film maker are each accompanied by a short documentary film hosted online and linked from within the chapter which use the medium of film to creatively explore and delve deeper into little known aspects of norberg schulz s theory of genius loci and the phenomenology of architecture the book questions what it means to follow those who came before exploring the positionality of the architectural historian filmmaker offering an insightful account of the life work and theory of a key thinker following norberg schulz is also essential reading for those interested in practice led research methodologies particularly in the practice of film making and the essay film providing a highly innovative example of scholarly research which bridges the text film gap
