practitioners and academics dealing with the middle east can turn to the yearbook of islamic and middle eastern law for an instant source of information on the developments over an entire year in the region the yearbook covers islamic and non islamic legal subjects including the laws themselves of some twenty arab and other islamic countries the publication s practical features include articles on current topics country surveys reflecting important new legislation and amendments to existing legislation per country the text of a selection of documents and important court cases a notes and news section and book reviews

it is a political study of the controversy surrounding the issue of the uniform civil code vis à vis personal laws from a south asian perspective at the centre of the debate is whether there should be a centralized view of the legal system in a given society or a decentralized view both horizontally and vertically this issue is entangled within the threads of identity politics minority rights women s rights national integration global islamic politics and universal human rights champions of each category view it through their own prisms making the debate extremely complex especially in politically and socially plural south asia so this book attempts to harmonize the threads of the debate to provide a holistic political analysis with a discussion of islamic law in india
