this book focuses on legal concepts from the dual perspective of law and terminology while legal concepts frame legal knowledge and take center stage in law the discipline of terminology has traditionally been about concept description exploring topics common to both disciplines such as meaning conceptualization and specialized knowledge transfer the book gives a state of the art account of legal interpretation legal translation and legal lexicography with special emphasis on eu law the special give and take of law and terminology is illuminated by real life legal cases which demystify the ways courts do things with concepts this original approach to the semantics of legal concepts is then incorporated into the making of a legal dictionary thus filling a gap in the theory and practice of legal lexicography with its rich repertoire of examples of legal terms in different languages the book provides a blend of theory and practice making it a valuable resource not only for scholars of law language and lexicography but also for legal translators and students nine distinguished contributors all leading experts and scholars in multilingual eu law making legal translation studies comparative law or european private law explore and analyse the legal translation praxis within eu legislative institutions appropriate for the purpose of legal harmonization and examine both the potential and limitations of legal translation in the context of the developments of a single but multilingual eu legal language
