contains amendments made to the regulations taking account of a change in nominal voltage European harmonization documents and alterations to agreed practices in certain areas these regulations are the recognized British standard to which all domestic and industrial wiring must conform this standard sets out requirements for the design, construction and verification of electrical installations including the selection and installation of electrical equipment forming part of such electrical installations. These requirements are intended to protect persons, livestock and property from electric shock, fire and physical injury hazards that may arise from an electrical installation that is used with reasonable care and with due regard to the intended purpose of the electrical installation. page 33

The International Standard Classification of Occupations 2008 (ISCO 08) is a four-level hierarchically structured classification that covers all jobs in the world. Developed with the benefit of accumulated national and international experience as well as the help of experts from many countries and agencies, ISCO 08 is fully supported by the international community as an accepted standard for international labour statistics. ISCO 08 classifies jobs into 436 unit groups. These unit groups are aggregated into 130 minor groups 43 sub major groups and 10 major groups based on their similarity in terms of the skill level and skill specialisation required for the jobs this allows the production of relatively detailed internationally comparable data as well as summary information for only 10 groups at the highest level of aggregation each group in the classification is designated by a title and code number and is associated with a definition that specifies the scope of the group the classification is divided into two volumes volume i presents the structure and definitions of all groups in isco 08 and their correspondence with isco 88 which it supersedes while volume ii provides an updated and expanded index of occupational titles and associated isco 08 and isco 88 codes
