this book analyses patterns of women s political participation and evaluates disparity between levels of women s participation in politics and representation in governance in nigeria it also examines the causes of women s underrepresentation in governance and decision making as well as their implications for the country s socioeconomic development and describes strategies for increased women s representation in governance and decision making in nigeria this study relies on political culture and liberal feminist theory and adopts a mixed method research design involving quantitative and qualitative methods it uses multistage sampling in selecting nigeria s south east north west and south west geopolitical zones and 1206 women of electoral age for the study survey conducted using structured questionnaire and in depth interview over the past decade an intellectual movement known as realism has challenged the reigning orthodoxy in political theory and political philosophy realists take issue with what they see as the excessive moralism and utopianism associated with prominent philosophers like john rawls ronald dworkin and g a cohen but what they would put in its place has not always been clear the contributors to this volume seek to bring realism into a new phase constructive rather than merely combative to this end they examine three distinct kinds of realism the first seeks to place questions of feasibility at the center of political theory and philosophy the second seeks to reorient our interpretations of key works in the canon the third seeks new interpretations or specifications of prominent ideologies such as liberalism radicalism and republicanism such that they no longer rely on abstract or systematic philosophic systems contributors include david estlund edward hall alison mcqueen terry nardin philip pettit janosch prinz enzo rossi andrew sabl rahul sagar and matt sleat the chapters originally published as a special issue of critical review of international social and political philosophy the purpose of this study is to analyze the political role of the venezuelan military from the death of gen juan vicente gomez in 1935 to the presidency of romulo betancourt in 1959 this analysis should contribute to a clearer understanding of the nature of military involvement in the national politics of a medium sized latin american nation it should also serve as an additional case study for the comparative analysis of military politics in this hemisphere
