this book written with unique access to official archives tells the secret story of britain's h bomb the scientific and strategic background the government's policy decision the work of the remarkable men who created the bomb the four weapon trials at a remote pacific atoll in 1957 58 and the historic consequences discusses the research and development of the hydrogen or thermonuclear bomb and the nuclear arms race in this engaging scientific memoir kenneth ford recounts the time when in his mid twenties he was a member of the team that designed and built the first hydrogen bomb he worked with and relaxed with scientific giants of that time such as edward teller enrico fermi stan ulam john von neumann and john wheeler and here offers illuminating insights into the personalities the strengths and the quirks of these men well known for his ability to explain physics to nonspecialists ford also brings to life the physics of fission and fusion and provides a brief history of nuclear science from the discovery of radioactivity in 1896 to the ten megaton explosion of mike that obliterated a pacific island in 1952 ford worked at both los alamos and princeton's project matterhorn and brings out matterhorn's major but previously unheralded contribution to the development of the h bomb outside the lab he drove a battered chevrolet around new mexico a bantam motorcycle across the country and a british roadster around new jersey part of the charm of ford's book is the way in which he leavens his well researched descriptions of the scientific work with brief tales of his life away from weapons super bomb unveils the story of the events leading up to president harry s truman s 1950 decision to develop a super or hydrogen bomb that fateful decision and its immediate consequences are detailed in a diverse and complete account built on newly released archives and previously hidden contemporaneous interviews with more than sixty political military and scientific figures who were involved in the decision ken young and warner r schilling present the expectations hopes and fears of the key individuals who lobbied for and against developing the h bomb they portray the conflicts that arose over the h bomb as rooted in the distinct interests of the atomic energy commission the los alamos laboratory the pentagon and state department the congress and the white house but as they clearly show once truman made his decision in 1950 resistance to the h bomb opportunistically shifted to new debates about the development of tactical nuclear weapons continental air defense and other aspects of nuclear weapons policy what super bomb reveals is that in many ways the h bomb struggle was a proxy battle over the morality and effectiveness of strategic bombardment and the role and doctrine of the us strategic air command
