fluid stages morphing theatre spaces ambulant spectators and occasionally disappearing performers these are some of the key ingredients of nomadic theatre they are also theatre's response to life in the 21st century which is increasingly marked by the mobility of people information technologies and services while examining how contemporary theatre exposes and queries this mobile turn in society liesbeth groot nibbelink introduces the concept of nomadic theatre as a vital tool for analyzing how movement and mobility affect and implicate the theatre how this makes way for local operations and lived spaces and how physical movements are stepping stones for theorizing mobility at large this book focuses on ambulatory performances and performative installations asking how they stage movement and in turn mobilize the stage by analyzing the work of leading european artists such as rimini protokoll dries verhoeven ontroerend goed and signa nomadic theatre demonstrates that mobile performances radically rethink the conditions of the stage and alter our understanding of spectatorship nomadic theatre instigates connections across disciplinary fields and feeds dramaturgical analysis with insights derived from media theory urban philosophy cartography architecture and game studies it illustrates how theatre as a material form of thought creatively and critically engages with mobile existence both on the stage and in society my thesis presents creative non fiction and contemporary painting which investigate place and identity as lyrical mappings of language and postcolonial histories written language used in conjunction with visual language produces meaning that is read through the use of text the mapping of location and identity provides a polyphonic site and the resulting investigations are assigned textual and visual vocabularies my lyric essays allow the interweaving of these multiple narratives of the psycho social aspects of identity to articulate a multi cultural heritage within a specific location the visual art works provide for the arrangement of place and identity as compositional components for contemplation of the multiple interpretations of these ideas this research seeks to map visual and written language through a process that interweaves intuition and intention reflecting the pluralistic nature of these conceptual underpinnings of place and identity
