how do the theological impulses of evangelical pietism and contemplative monasticism converge in the modern spiritual formation movement shaping the journey brings john wesley and thomas merton into critical dialogue examining their distinct yet complementary contributions to christian spirituality with wesleyan evangelicalism as a thesis and mertonian monasticism as antithesis this study argues that the spiritual formation movement represents a meaningful synthesis of these traditions central to this synthesis is the work of m robert mulholland jr whose integrative vision of spiritual formation clearly reflects the influences of wesley and merton and the evangelical and monastic traditions they represent engaging history theology and spirituality this work offers a vital resource for understanding the roots and trajectory of christian spiritual formation the neoliberal theologians who intend to repaint christianity say they are reacting to the errors and abuses within the church against the false promises of the prosperity theology and the modern pharisees who use legalism as a means of oppression and control the truth however is that they incur in the same mistakes of them those of the prosperity gospel or those of the postmodern church philosophy lead the ministry according to peoples desire not according to gods interests or the true spiritual need of people the prosperity theology adapted to a greedy society that sees jesus only as the multiplier of loaves and fishes and a free healer therefore it gave them what they wanted the postmodern christians changed the speech and emphasis but reproduced the same pattern of ministry when we compare them both groups are alike they all use pragmatism as foundation for ministry thus their teachings are unbiblical their practice unethical and its results devastating to the christian faith the new painters take advantage of the mistakes of some groups of the evangelicalism with this they find the opportunity to throw out the baby with the dirty bathwater they throw away the true gospel along with the errors of the church such opportunism is clearly detected in their effort to establish a stereotype to represent historic christianity as a group of ignorant and devoid of love fundamentalist fanatics while they pose as open minded good boy preachers and love givers with no trace of prejudice by opposing legalism these men went to the other extreme they became libertines thus their offered antidote became worse than the poison itself the neoliberal theologians came not to bring healing to the churchs problems rather they aggravated it they are opportunists who are creating a neo christianity under the perspectives of this new postmodern world small simple habits can grow your faith in big ways 65 of christian women admit they aren t satisfied with their spiritual lives you ve been told read your bible every day your prayer life matters find quiet time with god the problem life is chaotic you re pulled in a hundred directions and finding time for spiritual growth feels impossible this book takes spiritual disciplines out of the pulpit and the monastery and puts them into your kitchen your commute and your everyday routines small simple habits anyone can do everyday spiritual habits looks at the science of habit formation the purpose of spiritual disciplines biblical intake prayer solitude celebration thanksgiving practicing the presence of god and pursuing friendship this book will teach you how to experience a deeper more meaningful faith amidst your busy life apply proven habit formation science to your spiritual life prioritize your spiritual growth by creating small and sustainable spiritual habits throughout your day everyday spiritual habits combines the science of habit formation and the power of spiritual disciplines to help readers take small actions to grow their faith in big ways
