the novel don quixote written in the late sixteenth and early seventeenth century by miguel de cervantes saavedra is widely considered to be one of the greatest fictional works in the entire canon of western literature at once farcical and deeply philosophical cervantes novel and its characters have become integrated into the cultures of the western hemisphere influencing language and modern thought while inspiring art and artists such as richard strauss and pablo picasso based on professor roberto gonz[?] lez echevarr[?] a s popular open course at yale university this essential guide to the enduring spanish classic facilitates a close reading of don quixote in the artistic and historical context of renaissance and baroque spain while exploring why cervantes masterwork is still widely read and relevant today gonz[?] lez echevarr[?] a addresses the novel s major themes and demonstrates how the story of an aging deluded would be knight errant embodies that most modern of predicaments the individual s dissatisfaction with the world in which he lives and his struggle to make that world mesh with his desires the teaching of texts in translation has become an increasingly common practice but so too has the teaching of texts from languages and cultures with which the instructor may have little or no familiarity the authors in this volume present a variety of pedagogical approaches to promote translation literacy and to address the distinct phenomenology of translated texts the approaches set forward in this volume address the nature of the translator s task and how texts travel across linguistic and cultural boundaries in translation including how they are packaged for new audiences with the aim of fostering critical reading practices that focus on translations as translations the organizing principle of the book is the specific pedagogical contexts in which translated texts are being used such as courses on a single work survey courses on a single national literature or a single author and courses on world literature examples are provided from the widest possible variety of world languages and literary traditions as well as modes of writing prose poetry drama film and religious and historical texts with the aim that many of the pedagogical approaches and strategies can be easily adapted for use with other works and traditions an introductory section by the editors brian james baer and michelle woods sets the theoretical stage for the volume written and edited by authorities in the field of literature and translation this book is an essential manual for all instructors and lecturers in world and comparative literature and literary translation animal narratology interrogates what it means to narrate to speak speak for on behalf of and to voice or represent life beyond the human which is in itself as different as insects bears and dogs are from each other and yet more as individual as a single mouse horse or puma the varied contributions to this interdisciplinary special issue highlight assumptions about the human perception of attitude toward and responsibility for the animals that are read and written about thus demonstrating that just as the animal does not exist neither does the human in their zoopoetic focus the analyses are aware that animal narratology ultimately always contains an approximation of an animal perspective in human terms and terminology yet they make clear that what matters is how the animal is approximated and that there is an effort to approach and encounter the non human in the first place many of the analyses come to the conclusion that literary animals give readers the opportunity to expand their own points of view both on themselves and others by adopting another s perspective to the degree that such an endeavor is possible ultimately the contributions call for a recognition of the many spaces moments and modes in which human lives are entangled with those of animals one of which is located within the creative bounds of storytelling
