while many histories of christian worship exist this project undertakes a task both more focused and more urgent rather than survey the whole history of the christian church it focuses on the formative period between the first and fifth centuries ce when so many of the understandings and patterns of christian worship came to be and rather than include such developments as the monastic hours of prayer and the history of ordination the authors deal primarily with those aspects of worship that recur on a weekly or regular basis preaching eucharist and baptism the book divides its subject into three period it begins with the emerging worship of the new testament era it moves to the second and third centuries when the church's main tasks of establishing its identity in relation to its Jewish roots and making its way in a hostile Roman environment showed up in its theology and practice of worship and it concludes with the fourth and fifth centuries when introducing the increasing numbers of converts after Constantine to Christian faith became one of the highest priorities of the church's worship. This resource will serve as a valuable guide to the historical developments that brought about Christian worship as we know it today.

Christian thought from the birth of Christ to the apostles to the early church to the flowering of Christianity to now.

The name of Jesus and his teachings captured people's hearts and minds throughout much of the world long before Christianity was legal, long before armies and governments protected or supported it, and then long after Emperor Constantine's reign as many leaders misused it for their own gains or religious views. Christianity also.

This book explores the interconnection of theological education and Christian scholarship, cultural and theological hermeneutics, pedagogy, and community knowledge, democracy, and citizenship. Yet the three major disciplines or discourses covered in this work include multicultural education, theology, and hermeneutics through the lens of human flourishing and the concept of the good life. From this angle, this project is written from three different methods and approaches that intersect with each other: a theology of contextualization, a hermeneutics of interculturality, and a pedagogy of cultural literacy and transformative community knowledge. The book advances the idea that theological education should be the starting point to foster candid conversations about the importance of democracy and human rights, civic engagement, and the political life, inclusion and diversity, and pluralism and difference in our multicultural society. The book uses the tools of multicultural education and cultural knowledge to enhance democracy and promote fundamental human virtues that would sustain the good life and human flourishing in the world in the Aristotelian sense and in the Socratic idea of local and world citizenship. Finally, this text offers an alternative vision to contemporary
