two main criteria have guided the selection and presentation of the material for this text book firstly there is the claim that sociology is a science throughout the emphasis has been on presenting sociological perspectives rather than conveying a mass of factual information science is essentially analytical and sociology if it is to justify its claim to be a science must be more than simply political arithmetic counting heads and providing demographic data for governments secondly science like other intellectual activities can be exciting the emphasis throughout is on the sociological study of industrial society with particular reference to modern england after an introductory discussion of sociological perspectives there are chapters on each of the major sub systems of society the family the educational system the economy the political system and belief systems the book ends with three chapters on major social processes social differentiation and stratification organization and finally social change including a discussion of deviancy and disorganization this best selling text offers an integrated social science view of the world emphasizing that social and cultural change are the pervasive realities of our era one of the main themes of contemporary society is that the transition from an industrial to a post industrial order in the modern world is fraught with difficulties as was the transition from an agricultural to an industrial order in an earlier era within this framework we can observe the increasing fragmentation of the social order which tends to lead people away from community and a common purpose and often invites conflict and disunity at the same time countervailing social forces are also at work providing some stability some shelter in the storm finally societies are faced with the rapid and transformative power of information technology a fact that propels separate groups of people into a global entity
