using new material unearthed in french archives vietnamese language publications and the testimony of veterans valley of the shadow offers a new perspective on the climactic french defeat at dien bien phu following the end of world war ii france attempted to reassert control over its colonies in indochina in vietnam this was resisted by the viet minh leading to the first indochina war by 1954 the french army was on the defensive and determined to force the viet minh into a decisive set piece battle at dien bien phu over the past five decades western authors have generally followed a standard narrative of the siege of dien bien phu depicting the viet minh besiegers as a faceless horde which overwhelmed the intrepid garrison by sheer weight of numbers superior firepower and logistics however a wealth of new vietnamese language sources tell a very different story revealing for the first time the true viet minh order of battle and the details of the severe logistical constraints within which the besiegers had to operate using these sources complemented by interviews with french veterans and research in the french army and french foreign legion archives this book now publishing in paperback provides a new telling of the climactic battle in the indochina war the conflict that set the stage for the vietnam war a decade later
