this is the final volume in a four part series covering the development of the university in europe east and west from its origins to the present day focusing on a number of major themes viewed from a european perspective the originality of the series lies in its comparative interdisciplinary collaborative and transnational nature it deals also with the content of what was taught at the universities but its main purpose is an appreciation of the role and structures of the universities as seen against a backdrop of changing conditions ideas and values this volume deals with the reconstruction and epoch making expansion of higher education after 1945 which led to the triumph of modern science it traces the development of the relationship between universities and national states teachers and students their ambitions and political activities special attention is paid to fundamental changes in the content of teaching at the universities a history of modern political thought in east central europe is a synthetic work authored by an international team of researchers covering twenty national cultures and 250 years it goes beyond the conventional nation centered narratives and presents a novel vision especially sensitive to the cross cultural entanglement of political ideas and discourses its principal aim is to make these cultures available for the global market of ideas and revisit some of the basic assumptions about the history of modern political thought and modernity as such the present volume is the final part of the project following volume i negotiating modernity in the long nineteenth century and volume ii part i negotiating modernity in the short twentieth century 1918 1968 oup 2018 its starting point is the defeat of the vision of socialism with a human face in 1968 and the political discourses produced by the various consolidation or normalization regimes it continues with mapping the exile communities and domestic dissidents critical engagement with the local democratic and anti democratic traditions as well as with global trends rather than achieving the coveted end of history however the liberal democratic order created in east central europe after 1989 became increasingly contested from left and right alike thus instead of a comfortable conclusion pointing to the european integration of most of these countries the book closes with a reflection on the fragility of democracy in this part of the world and beyond this book contributes to the debate on what europe means by demonstrating the complexities and contradictions inherent in the concept they are seen most clearly when europe is viewed from a long historical perspective during the closing decades of the twentieth century europe emerged as one of the main points of reference in both the cultural and the political constructs of the global community an obsession with the concept of european identity is readily discernible this process of identity construction provokes critical questions which the book aims to address at the same time the book explores the opportunities offered by the concept of europe to see how it may be used in the construction of the future the approach is one of both deconstruction and reconstruction the issue of europe is closely related in the book to more general issues concerning the cultural construction of community the book should therefore be seen as the companion of myth and memory in the construction of community which is also published by pie peter lang in the series multiple europes the book appears within the framework of a research project on the cultural construction of community in modernisation processes in comparison this project is a joint enterprise of the european university institute in florence and the humboldt university in berlin sponsored by the bank of sweden tercentenary fund

the european union we are told is facing extinction most of those who believe that however have no understanding of how and why it became possible to imagine that the diverse peoples of europe might be united in a single political community the pursuit of europe tells the story of the evolution of the european project from the end of the napoleonic wars which saw the earliest creation of a concert of europe right through to brexit the question was how after centuries of internecine conflict to create a united europe while still preserving the political legal and cultural integrity of each individual nation the need to find an answer to this question became more acute after two world wars had shown that if the nations of europe were to continue to play a role in the world they could now only do so together to achieve that however they had to be prepared to merge their zealously guarded sovereign powers into a new form of trans national constitutionalism this the european union has tried to do here anthony pagden argues that it has created not as its enemies have claimed a super state but a new post national order united in a political life based not upon the old shibboleths of nationalism and patriotism but upon a common body of values and aspirations it is this argues pagden that will allow the union to defeat its political enemies from within and to overcome the difficulties from mass migration to the pandemic which it faces from without but it will only succeed in doing so if it also continues to evolve as it has over the past two centuries
