Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

- 1 Which theory is best? There is no single best theory. Each offers valuable insights but also limitations. The most effective approach is to utilize a multifaceted approach drawing on strengths from different theories depending on the specific context.
- 2 How do these theories influence foreign policy decisions? Policymakers implicitly or explicitly draw upon theoretical frameworks when making decisions. Realist approaches might emphasize military strength while liberal approaches might prioritize international cooperation and diplomacy. Constructivist insights may shape efforts to promote norms and values.
- 3 Are these theories relevant today? Absolutely. While developed decades ago, these theories remain remarkably relevant in understanding contemporary global challenges like climate change, terrorism, economic globalization, and great power competition.
- 4 How do these theories account for nonstate actors? While realism traditionally focuses on states, other theories like liberalism and constructivism give greater weight to nonstate actors like NGOs, multinational corporations, and terrorist groups. Their influence is increasingly significant in the 21st century.
- 5 Can these theories predict future events? These theories offer frameworks for understanding past and present events but they cannot predict the future with certainty. The international system is dynamic and unpredictable, influenced by numerous factors beyond the scope of any single theory. However, these theories provide valuable tools for analyzing trends and potential future scenarios.
