integrative medicine seamlessly blends eastern and western medical traditions into an informative and readable resource author kathleen phelan brings her skills as an investigative reporter and her experience as a medical writer to bear in a tour de force part history part story part resource for any reader seriously interested in his or her own well being and in the future of medicine and medical treatment in this country once considered alternative eastern medicine has gained widespread acceptance by the general public but it is the blending or integration of eastern healing with western medicine that is now commanding the attention of the medical community dating the birth of integrative medicine to 1971 when James Reston brought the concept of acupuncture and Chinese herbs to America's shores. Phelan traces a movement that's grown into a 15 billion dollar industry in a generation through interviews with eastern and western practitioners and their clients. She puts a human face on the crisis of medical care in our time with extensive detail. She recounts the history of both eastern and western medicine presenting the best and sometimes exposing the myths of both ancient cures and current high tech methods.

The Indy 500 where speed meets tradition. The Indy 500: A Year-Long Quest to Win the Greatest Spectacle in Racing tells the story well. A great work about a singular event, the largest single day sporting event in the world, the Indianapolis 500 mile race. Paul Page, award-winning journalist and broadcaster, long-time voice of the 500 and member of both the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and Indiana Broadcaster Halls of Fame, the Indianapolis 500 is more than just a race; it's an American institution. Every year, over 350,000 fans pack the historic Indianapolis Motor Speedway, making it the largest single day sporting event in the world with a legacy spanning over a century. The greatest spectacle in racing is a thrilling blend of tradition, danger, and drama where legends are made and dreams are shattered at over 230 miles per hour. In the Indy 500, a year-long quest to win the greatest spectacle in racing, Ray Hartjen takes readers on a spellbinding journey leading up to the 108th running of the race in 2024, from the final laps of the 2023 showdown to the checkered flag of 2024. This book captures the intense battles, personal rivalries, and high-stakes moments that define the sport. Inside, you'll discover the inside story of how teams and drivers prepare for the biggest race of the year, the thrill and heartbreak of qualifying where 34 cars fight for only 33 spots, the final lap drama that makes the Indy 500 one of the most unpredictable events in motorsports, with deep storytelling, rich history, and a behind-the-scenes look at the drivers, teams, and strategies. The Indy 500 is the ultimate read for racing fans and anyone who loves high-speed competition. Buckle up, because this race is far from over.
