today it is widely recognized that in order to meet environmental challenges it will not simply be enough to make our lifestyles greener also critical is putting an end to the modern conception of the human as master and possessor of nature however to bear fruit this change in anthropology must also be accompanied by a revision in our conception of technology since the enlightenment and the development of industrialization technology no longer seems to be subject to the guiding principles set by the greeks prudence and the search for the right measure in all which leads to the care of beings and the world care in technology analyzes the historical changes that have led technology to become an unthinkable part of care and care an unthinkable part of technology it also establishes the conditions for care to once again become a regulatory principle of the activity of engineers who design technology

this book contains an open access chapter this volume is the first systematic survey of the interface between the aesthetic and strategic domains the aesthetic turn in strategy encompasses the use of aesthetic features and style to create value as well as the ways in which the useful and the beautiful can be brought together a massive set of classic books includes the most influential works of literature philosophy and science in the history of the west given the resurgence of eschatological thought in contemporary theology and the continued relevance of phenomenology in philosophy this book brings together leading thinkers such as lacoste romano kearney and hart to explore the ways in which these two seemingly unrelated disciplines illuminate each other through a series of phenomenological analyses of key eschatological concepts and detailed readings in some of the key figures of both disciplines this text reveals that phenomenology and eschatology are fundamentally inter related and that neither can be fully understood without the other without eschatology phenomenology would not have developed the ethical and temporal aspects that characterize it today without phenomenology eschatology would remain relegated to the sidelines of serious theological discourse along the way such diverse themes as time death parousia and the call are re examined and redefined
