Foundations of low vision clinical and functional perspectives. The ground-breaking text that highlighted the importance of focusing on the functional as well as the clinical implications of low vision has been completely updated and expanded in this second edition. The revised edition goes even further in its presentation of how best to assess and support both children and adults with low vision and plan programs and services that optimize their functional vision and ability to lead productive and satisfying lives based on individuals' actual abilities. Part 1 personal and professional perspectives provides the foundations of this approach with chapters focused on the anatomy of the eye, medical causes of visual impairment, optics and low vision devices and clinical low vision services as well as psychological and social implications of low vision and the history of the field. Part 2 focuses on children and youths providing detailed treatment of functional vision assessment, instruction, use of low vision devices, orientation and mobility and assistive technology. Part 3 presents rehabilitation and employment issues for working age adults and special considerations for older adults.

This book addresses the limited information about vision training and the importance of having knowledge of superior visual skills in our everyday individualised environment like the classroom workspace and sports setting. It is an instruction manual explaining vision training in terms of what it can be used for and who can benefit from it. It provides examples of over two hundred exercises of twenty-three different visual skills covering fundamental and advanced skills also including visual perceptual skills and sport-specific skills. It explains the tests that an eye care professional can do to determine the level of a patient/athlete's visual skills to regulate where improvement needs to be done written in a concise manner and supplemented with insightful visual materials the book will allow the reader to formulate an individualised program according to the needs of the patient athlete
