this is the first book to focus on the ethic that dietrich bonhoeffer constructed during the 1930s an ethic he crafted while playing a key role in christian resistance to nazism and an ethic still inspiring politically active christians the ethic of discipleship this study argues represents a reworking of the christian faith so that it becomes actively opposed to totalitarianism this book therefore adds a significant dimension to the published record concerning the german theologian and pastor executed in 1945 for conspiring to assassinate hitler and overthrow the third reich since an ethic reflects more than a cognitive assent and has emotional and experiential dimensions the author s approach is socio psychological drawing on the large documentary record of bonhoeffer s family relations reductionism however is rejected in this book which gives social psychology parity but not superiority in understanding bonhoeffer s religious quest and political dialogue bonhoeffer s religious thought as it pertains to society church renewal and the new paths opened up for theology and ethics in the context of issues that are of special interest to north americans back cover
