the author presents a two tiered analysis that views postmodern legal thought as both a collective intellectual movement and as the work of particular theorists notably friedrich nietzsche michel foucault jacques derrida francois lyotard and richard rorty he concludes that even though postmodern thought does not give rise to a normative theory of right that can be used as a framework for deciding cases it can focus attention on genealogy and discourse and can empower those who have been denied a voice in the legal system annotation copyrighted by book news inc portland or

the book is a critical analysis of the work of max weber emile durkheim and karl marx it focuses on their separate analyses of the role of law in society pointing out their faults and errors and the resultant impact on modern social science the author takes issue with weber s work on rationality with durkheim s work on repressive and restitutive law and with marx s work on social justice and law as part of the super structure in each section of the book he shows the implications that flow from a re assessment and re interpretation of their work for an understanding of society the book is multi disciplinary making ample reference to law sociology anthropology history religion ecology criminology philosophy and economics its various chapters discuss a wide range of themes including rationality tradition science political authority conflict resolution community justice and altruism this book brings together the fruits of different traditions in legal philosophy and draws on them to develop a systematic thesis on the concept of law the work uses a legal model to explore the underlying question of how the current phenomena of transnational law are best understood in combination with an examination of the traditions of jürgen habermas s critical theory and h l a hart s analytic jurisprudence this leads the author to conclude that the key to a fruitful dialogue and comprehensive understanding is to appreciate that the concept of law is not state centered and must reflect relationships to other legal systems
