focusing on the figure of the storyteller this study breaks new ground in the approach to reading contemporary literature by identifying a growing interest in storytelling for the last thirty years contemporary fiction has been influenced by theoretical discourses textuality and writing only since the rise of postcolonialism have academic critics been more overtly interested in stories where high theory frameworks are less applicable however as we move through various contemporary contexts engaging with postcolonial identities and hybridity to narratives of disability and evolutionary accounts of group and individual survival a common feature of all is the centrality of story which posits both the idea of survival and the passing on of traditions the return of the storyteller in contemporary fiction closely examines this preoccupation with story and storytelling through a close reading of six contemporary international novelists that are either about actual storytellers or engage with the figure of the storyteller revealing how death of the author has given birth to the storyteller mama gave me a chance many children of today do not get to sit around the fire and hear their mothers narrate traditional stories not from books but from the heart she changed voices of the different characters and sometimes even sang to bring the stories to life i had to learn how to pay attention as there were no books for reference later if you do not pay attention and think about what i am telling you you will have nothing to teach your children when you become a parent mama said over and over she taught me how to think and figure out what i needed to learn from the stories she told i hope storytellers will be enriched by the stories mama told me when i was growing up and those i have written using her methodology to be a storyteller you need a rich bank of stories on various themes of life my intention is to enrich storytellers and to keep mama s memory she is the best teacher i have ever had each story has an introduction to let my readers know why mama told me that story or why i wrote that story there is room for creativity to bring the stories to life and suit the age group you are telling the story to all the stories in this book are educational and can be used for entertainment as well i hope you will enjoy and continue passing on the message you derive from each story to everyone you meet be happy always
