presents more than two hundred poems by sixteen spanish and latin american poets from the renaissance and baroque periods and the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in spanish and in english translations by noted poets activism through poetry critical spanish poems in translation is a compiled anthology of translated poems which explore cultural political social and ecological issues in the context of contemporary spain the work highlights the active role that poetry plays in the debate of these issues the anthology begins with an introduction which provides a theoretical framework and a critical analysis of each poem it is an important contribution in the academic context and also in the more general context of international social and political action it constitutes the first bilingual translation of selected poems written by well known and emergent contemporary critical poets from spain the five sections historical memory ecology political and social issues patriarchy and capitalism feature four poems with a total of twenty poems ten written by women and ten written by men these poets are activists whose poetry comments on society and more importantly wants to have an impact on it the poetic art that is born from ethical commitment has the potential to call attention not only to the realities of the world we live in but also to the possibilities for transformation poetry therefore is ultimately a political act twentieth century spanish poetry has received comparatively little attention from critics writing in english andrew debicki now presents the first english language history published in the united states to examine the sweep of modern spanish verse more important he is the first to situate spanish poetry in the context of european modernity to trace its trajectory from the symbolists to the postmodernists avoiding the rigid generational schemes and catalogs of names found in traditional hispanic literary histories debicki offers detailed discussions of salient books and texts to construct an original and compelling view of his subject he demonstrates that contemporary spanish verse is rooted in the modern tradition and poetics that see the text as a unique embodiment of complex experiences he then traces the evolution of that tradition in the early decades of the century and its gradual disintegration from the 1950s to the present as spanish poetry came to reflect features of the postmodern especially the poetics of text as process rather than as product by centering his study on major periods and examining within each the work of poets of different ages debicki develops novel perspectives the late 1960s and early 1970s for example were not merely the setting for a new aesthetic generation but an era of exceptional creativity in which both established and new writers engendered a profound intertextual and often self referential lyricism this book will be essential reading for specialists in modern spanish letters for advanced students and for readers interested in comparative literature poems to lisi is presented here as an undergraduate student text with parallel text english verse translations this edition of quevedo's poems to lisi is a successor to the same editor's original text in exeter hispanic texts which only contained the spanish text of the poems published in 1988 rather than reprint that edition the editor has chosen to make the text more widely available by setting his own english verse translations alongside the spanish originals it is intended to provide undergraduates in hispanic studies with an accessible edition of a key work of the spanish golden age the translations are close enough to the originals to be of value to those who have an adequate knowledge of spanish while the rendering of the poems into english verse mainly blank verse sonnets will enable those lacking such a knowledge to read them as poems in their own right unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 we have not used ocr optical character recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 in books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc we have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy this collection of poems by spanish poet fernando arteaga y de pereira offers a unique perspective on the human condition the poems explore themes of love loss and identity and are characterized by arteaga s masterful use of language and imagery this bilingual edition includes the original spanish poems alongside english translations this work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it this work is in the public domain in the united states of america and possibly other nations within the united states you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public we appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant first published in 1955 under the guidance of spanish poet critic and educator pedro salinas this delightful collection begins with the earliest works of spanish literature simple songs of love and grief and the twelfth century epic about rodrigo diaz de bivar el cid goes on to include the religious works of gonzalo de berceo the elegiac ode of jorge manrique medieval ballads and songs the eclogues and sonnets of garcilafo de la vega the mystical poetry of fray luis de león and saint john of the cross and the cultismo works of luis de góngora and concludes with poems by such recognized masters as lope de vega calderón de la barca and miguel de unamuno
