letters from khartoum is a partial biography of scottish educator d r ewen who taught english literature at the university of khartoum from the time of the anglo egyptian condominium through to independence and the october 1964 revolution the administrative history of the then unified nation north middle eastern and south african makes the sudan a unique setting to explore the workings of colonial education the purpose of teaching english literature there was to remake the muslim sudanese of the north as the proxy agents of british culture who would administrate the first independent nation in africa but ewen also was remade in the process by his relationships with his students and colleagues and by his own teaching innovations

this is a collection of twenty essays written over forty years between 1962 and 2004 on the sudan southern sudan and darfur four decades of civil war has cost more than two million dead and another six million refugees and internally displaced persons now after a decade of ambivalent and frustrating negotiations a peace agreement between the sudan people s liberation movement and the government of the sudan has finally been signed on 9 january 2005 leaving in its wake a devastated southern sudan its infrastructure completely destroyed its fragile economy in ruins and its people exhausted after nearly half a century of fierce fighting although these twenty essays include such topics as nation building the dynamics of racial ethnic cultural and religious identity the politics of oil and the legacy of slavery most of them are concerned with conflict in the sudan its participants and the reasons why and it began and has continued for so long these essays are presented here in chronological order the aggregate becomes a unique history of the sudan s terrible civil war that cannot be found elsewhere the independent sudan are woven into the text of each revealing new insights into the history of these tumultuous decades
