focussing on events in the anatolian town of tokat during the final two decades of the great ottoman legal and administrative reforms known as the tanzimat 1839 76 this book applies elements of social networking theory to analyze and assess the establishment of local governments across the middle east the author s key finding is that the state s efforts to centralize authority succeeded only when and where locals acted as the primary agents of change independent notables such as the military a yân demanded wealth and state offices in exchange for meting out reform measures according to local idioms of power newly created administrative bodies also offered greater social mobility to a growing multiconfessional middle class in small towns like tokat the state was desperate to reform but opportunistic provincials were eager to have it only on their own terms challenging false assumptions about the limited scope of participatory politics in the middle east during the nineteenth century ottoman notables and participatory politics will be of interest to students and scholars of political economy history and middle east studies while pubs are closing many new bars are opening brand new micropubs craft beer bars cocktail lounges wine and tapas bars licensed cafés and even pop ups are springing up at a rate of 2 000 a year there are now over 650 000 personal licences issued in the uk which is unprecedented if opening and running your own bar appeals to you then the bar owners handbook will steer you through the twists and turns of planning and licensing finance food hygiene and every other hoop and hurdle in the obstacle race of the hospitality business
