this volume collects for the first time essays published in british irish and american periodicals during bowen s lifetime as well as essays which have never been published before the range of subjects alone makes these essays indispensable reading throughout her career elizabeth bowen the anglo irish novelist and short story writer also wrote literary essays that display a shrewd generous intelligence always sensitive to underlying tensions she evokes the particular climate of countries and places in hungary quote quote prague and the crisis quote and quote bowen s court quote in quote britain in autumn quote she records the strained atmosphere of the blitz as no other writer does immediately after the war she reported on the international peace conference in paris in a series of essays that are startling in their evocation of tense diplomacy among international delegates scrabbling to define the boundaries of europe and the stakes of the cold war the aftershock of war registers poignantly in quote opening up the house quote owners evacuated during the war return to their houses empty since 1939 other essays in this volume especially those on james joyce jane austen and the technique of writing offer indispensable mid century evaluations of the state of literature the essays assembled in this volume were published in british irish and american periodicals during bowen s lifetime she herself did not gather them into any collection some of these essays exist only as typescript drafts and are published here for the first time bowen s observations on age toys disappointment charm and manners place her among the very best literary essayists of the modernist period a danish scholar of english and irish literature christensen focuses on the four novels and handful of short stories that anglo irish writer bowen 1899 1973 published after world war ii which critics have tended to neglect until very recently distributed in the us by isbs annotation copyrighted by book news inc portland or in a writing career that spanned the 1920s to the 1960s anglo irish author elizabeth bowen created a rich and nuanced body of work in which she enlarged the comedy of manners with her own stunning brand of emotional and psychological depth in a world of love an uneasy group of relations are living under one roof at montefort a decaying manor in the irish countryside when twenty year old jane finds in the attic a packet of love letters written years ago by guy her mother s one time fiance who died in world war i the discovery has explosive repercussions it is not clear to whom the letters are addressed and their appearance begins to lay bare the strange and unspoken connections between the adults now living in the house soon a girl on the brink of womanhood a mother haunted by love lost and a ruined matchmaker with her own claim on the dead wage a battle that makes the ghostly guy as real a presence in montefort as any of the living from the 1940s to the 1960s elizabeth bowen took an active role in spoken media and radio in particular by writing essays for broadcast improvising interviews on the air and giving public lectures during her lifetime she published few of her broadcasts listening in brings together a substantial number of her ungathered and unknown works for the first time bowen was known as a public intellectual capable of talking on numerous subjects with wit and general insight invited to university campuses in the uk and us she delivered important lectures on language the fear of pleasure character in fiction the idea of american homes and other topics her first efforts for radio were adaptations of her own short stories and dramatizations of literary subjects she quickly turned to commentary on culture such as the beginning of the bbc third programme and the atmosphere in postwar czechoslovakia she documented her love of cinema in the 1930s and the making of lawrence of arabia in the 1960s and broadcast on queen elizabeth ii katherine mansfield frances burney and jane austen during a soft english summer in the 1920s the studdart sisters marry and set up house one in london and one in a country estate however things are not as they seem using careful elliptical prose interspersed with quips and populated by memorable characters elizabeth bowen reveals how these seemingly placid lives are anchored in li cover widely known for her much admired novels including the heat of the day the house in paris and the death of the heart elizabeth bowen established herself in the front rank of the century s writers equally through her short fiction this collection brings together seventy nine magnificent stories written over the course of four decades vividly featuring scenes of bomb scarred london during the blitz frustrated lovers acutely observed children and even vengeful ghosts these stories reinforce bowen s reputation as an artist whose finely chiseled narratives rich in imagination psychological insight and craft transcend their time and place this study offers an authoritative introduction to bowen s works revealing both their pleasures for the fiction addict and their fascinations for the literary critic theorist and historian the career of elizabeth bowen 1899 1973 has been hard to categorize as an anglo irish writer a follower of the modernists but not technically one herself as an independent woman writer but not by her admission a feminist and as a creative writer in time of war she has eluded compartmentalization in how will the heart endure heather bryant jordan provides a new assessment of bowen s achievement arguing that bowen s response to war is the best lens for elucidating the relation between art and life expressed in bowen s work bowen created novels short stories essays and autobiographical works in a war torn world that saw successively the troubles in ireland the irish civil war world war i and world war ii the strains she felt as a result of these experiences were expressed in the intensely personal vision of loss and betrayal that her fiction conveys jordan s study combines historical and literary analysis and incorporates new archival research on bowen s correspondence and on her war reports to the ministry of information how will the heart endure offers not only a new reading of bowen s work but an insightful look into the wartime publishing climate in which bowen and her circle which included virginia woolf t s eliot john and rosalind lehmann cyril connolly evelyn waugh graham greene and stephen spender operated it will be of interest to specialists in modern british fiction women s studies irish studies and anglo irish literature book jacket title summary field provided by blackwell north america inc all rights reserved
