how does language attain to rear view reflection and then timeless analysis how does language garner its conceptualisation in order to do this this book is an exploration of the process in which everyday narrative language can become reflective and then analytical narrative language is viewed as a way of becoming within the flow of time and therefore life evans and herat show that there are levels in language that correspond with conceptual structures existing in the mind and in wider society which shape the formation of a metalanguage they explore how metaphor is an important creative tool in raising language to a more conceptual level in the constitution of a metalanguage the book considers the development of different strands of metalanguage for example mind based logic physically based metaphor and universal grammar to provide a fuller account of language and identity by challenging sweeping existential accounts of language by studying the formation and application of metalanguage the authors show it can help develop a more questioning dialogic critical pedagogy in education to accustom students to develop critical awareness this book examines military and civilian actors in international interventions and offers a new analytical framework to apply on such interventions while it is frequently claimed that success in international interventions hinges largely on military civilian coherence cooperation has proven challenging to achieve in practice this book examines why this is the case by analysing various approaches employed by military and civilian actors and discussing the different relationships between the intervening actors and those upon whom they have intervened the work analyses different military concepts such as peacekeeping and counterinsurgency and the often troubled relationship between the humanitarian and military intervening actors it presents a new analytical framework to examine these relationships based on identification theory which illuminates how the interveners represent those they have been deployed to engage as well as their own identity and role as such the book offers an enhanced understanding of the challenges related to civil military cooperation in international interventions as well as a theoretical contribution to the study of interventions more generally this book will be of much interest to students of international interventions military studies peacekeeping security studies and international relations psychological roots of the climate crisis tells the story of a fundamental fight between a caring and an uncaring imagination it helps us to recognise the uncaring imagination in politics in culture for example in the writings of ayn rand and also in ourselves sally weintrobe argues that achieving the shift to greater care requires us to stop colluding with exceptionalism the rigid psychological mindset largely responsible for the climate crisis people in this mindset believe that they are entitled to have the lion s share and that they can rearrange reality with magical omnipotent thinking whenever reality limits these felt entitlements while this book s subject is grim its tone is reflective ironic light and at times humorous it is free of jargon and full of examples from history culture literature poetry everyday life and the author s experience as a psychoanalyst and a professional life that has been dedicated to helping people to face difficult truths
