asian american sexual politics explores the topics of beauty self esteem and sexual attraction among asian americans the book draws on sixty in depth interviews to show how constructions of asian american gender and sexuality tend to reinforce the social and political dominance for whites particularly white males even in the supposed post racial united states drawing on established scholarship on the intersection of race gender and sexuality asian american sexual politics shows how power dynamics shape the lives of young asian americans today asian american women are often constructed as hyper sexual docile bodies while asian american men are often racially castrated the book s interview excerpts show the range of frames through which asian americans approach the world as well as the counter frames they construct in the final chapter author rosalind s chou offers strategies for countering racialized and sexualized oppression this provocative book shows how persistent racism affects asian american body image self esteem and intimate relationships

this book explores the shifting role of the minister in light of the experiences of college men in the united states young men frequently struggle to know what it means to be a man and doubt that churches can supply the meaning and direction for which they hunger these men are not necessarily lost but they do need a certain kind of spiritual accompaniment that is likely to push many ministers outside of postures and practices with which they have grown comfortable this interdisciplinary work draws together feminist and masculinist theories contemporary practices in campus ministry recent literature on religious deconversion and individual interviews with college men in order to argue for new ways amid the practice of ministry this work invites ministers to become more apophatic to grow comfortable with moving away from clarity and to adopt ungrasping postures of ministry that attend to the unfolding theology of the individual this repositions campus ministers to support young adults from a range of spiritual commitments disaffiliating ministry invites ministers to eliminate wasteful ministerial habits to explore new ministry practices and to enjoy the freedom of accompanying young men in processes of leaving behind attitudes and actions that cease to be life giving while deepening in faith courage and responsibility for others the brother code explores manhood and masculinity among african american college men examining identity family influences and societal expectations based on interviews with 24 students across 12 colleges it highlights how manhood shapes their experiences and offers insight into enrollment retention and identity formation around the globe families are often faced with a variety of health issues often as a result of social political religious and economic forces this multidisciplinary volume addresses the impact health issues have on individual family members and how this affects their family relationships
