it is no secret that the history of america as a nation has been largely rewritten and reshaped in recent years it s time to remember america is not just a statement or a warning or an admonition it is an invitation to recall those who established a system of government such as the world had never known and where the biblical worldview formed a common thread yes it s time to remember and to dream of what america can be under god the past as liberation from history explores the difference between the social construction we call history and the lived experience we call the past arguing that by failing to distinguish between the two we risk unquestionably accepting as authoritative accounts of the past in which we have no voice it shows that identities rooted in the richness and variety of the past even when the history is painful serve the purpose of drawing us closer to one another as we seek to realize our shared dreams of life liberty and the pursuit of happiness by placing in counterpoint broader educational concerns with the teaching experiences of the author the study also explores this individual s testimony as a teacher seeking to make relevant for his students the examination of the past
