seminar paper from the year 2013 in the subject business economics offline marketing and online marketing grade 13 university of münster course digital media marketing seminar language english abstract this seminar paper analyses how the digitalization has changed the general set up of the music industry by analyzing studies and data the paper illustrates several challenges that influenced record sales considering the different type of players in the music industry record labels online and physical retailers and artists this paper will only discuss the challenges and effects of the digitalization on the major record labels the challenges of digitalization for artists will not be covered in this paper digital music actually enhances the chance of being discovered and for reaching a larger audience ankeny 2012 in this sense the digitalization is an opportunity rather than a challenge for artists this also applies for online retailers such as itunes and amazon since digital music does not require physical storage online retailers can offer music at almost zero costs thus online retailers benefit from the digitalization of music physical retailers presumably lose revenue because of the digitalization of music however their situation will not be discussed further in this paper the major record labels are highly vertically integrated neff and blömer 2003 p 104 besides managing artists the recording companies are also in charge of the publishing and copyrights of music additionally they have enormous production resources and strong distribution networks this gives the major record labels a significant competitive advantage however this advantage was partly ruined by the digitalization in this paper digitalization of the music industry is limited to the impact of mp3s on the industry the introduction of the cd as the first phase of digitalization is not further discussed chapter two deals with the challenge of piracy for the record companies in chapter three the increased competition as a challenge will be described the change of the product music is discussed in chapter four chapter five presents the changing consumer behavior as the final challenge for the major record labels every chapter is concluded by presenting the reactions of the record labels to the respective challenges the paper is rounded off by a conclusion in which the main points are summarized and a discussion of future strategies for the record labels master's thesis from the year 2004 in the subject politics topic development politics grade sehr gut schiller international university language english abstract development cooperation can be broadly defined as an effort to assist nation states and their citizens and institutions to develop and thereby grow out of poverty it usually consists of a transfer of money and or knowledge from developed to developing countries to support development efforts in a wide range of areas such as infrastructure governance market reform poverty reduction education health care etc it is a relatively young field in international relations evolving after world war ii with the marshall plan the marshall plan was designed to help western europe recover and to establish democratic states based on market economy and to meet the soviet communist threat the success of the marshall plan led the united states to conclude that this concept could also be applied to other parts of the world mainly to protect them from any communist tendencies but also to reduce poverty national security interests however were the leading motive for development cooperation during the cold war the american foreign aid policy continues to focus on national security interests up to today other donor countries for example france and great britain were supporting their former colonies aiming at securing their commercial interests and maintaining access to natural resources only the scandinavian countries denmark sweden and norway and the netherlands placed humanitarian motives above security and commercial interests and aimed at eliminating poverty from the very beginning of their development cooperation to achieve their diverse and varied goals donor countries employed various strategies and repeatedly changed them to respond to their non efficiency development strategies were also influenced by development theorists and varied from simply supplying developing countries with what they were missing mainly capital with the expectation that the benefits would trickle down to the poor to structural adjustment programs demanding strict economical and fiscal policies after the end of the cold war the demand for developing countries to display democratic principles was then added as a requirement for receiving aid yet none of these strategies has been able to close the global poverty gap seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject english language and literature studies culture and applied geography grade 2 3 b university of potsdam anglistics american studies course ps religions in multicultural britain language english abstract as the anglican communion enters the third millennium of christian history it is a good time to reflect upon the first 450 years of history as a national church and subsequently as an anglican communion 1 this work will consider the history of canada partly whereas the main points will be the first canadian settlers their problems and what brought them to the new land it will furthermore be discussed how the english and the french got along in what today is canada the main part of this essay will be the spread of the anglican church in the canadian west which was very important in the history of canadian anglicanism by the 1840s the anglican church expanded their bishoprics in nearly all over the world and of course in canada they established new bishoprics especially in the canadian west and tried to convert the native population but leaving them their own language at that time in the second part of this work i will take a look at the influence of the anglican church in the canadian educational system it will be discussed how the church established big universities in canada first open only to anglicans the secularization divided the church and the state in terms of education because former church colleges became public and open to people even though they where not anglican or even christian faith at all the church reacted on the secularization by the opening of new universities which sadly never reached the quality of their predecessors this was caused by the limited financial resources that the church had in the late 19th century it got even worse in the first part of the 20th century when former anglican churches disavowed from their christian origin for claiming to be scientific theses and several other problems that the anglican church had to cope with in case of education will be discussed in the second part of this work 1 bryant 206
