immortality and the existence of god reformulating the arguments of plato anselm and

g del defends a modern version of plato s argument for the immortality of the soul the self is essentially conscious and hence essentially living it is therefore deathless and cannot receive death but then it also cannot become something else nor can it be destroyed since that would be receiving death also so the self or immortal and immaterial the book then considers materialist theories of the mind and rejects them it formulates an argument from introspection which the author believes establishes substance dualism the argument for immortality and the ontological argument for the existence of god are parallel in that attempt to establish the existence of necessary beings since immortality makes sense within a theistic context the second half of the book defends a version of g del s ontological argument for god s existence utilizing experience of the moral good and that mutual entailment of the attributes of god to argue that these attributes including necessary existence are logically coherent in the final chapter the author uses the central arguments in the book to support accounts of the afterlife from those who have had near death experiences this is a book about living immortals in their own words people who are hundreds if not thousands of years old and living in our world today their commentaries come from a discussion board i have been using for a couple of years to market my earlier book physical immortality a history and how to guide there are over twelve distinct immortal personalities who posted on this board and they all have different perspectives on their lives as immortals one of the main characters on the site said this about the immortals i have met over 170 other immortals dating from 20 000 years old to 110 years old from around earth gods are in another league i have met 15 gods godesses most are norce celtic gods there is at least 2000 of us out of your 7billion humans doing the exact same as me ie jobs names some still hide in mountans and forests do i believe all of this i do have some skepticism but even if it s not true it is a great story if true it is one of the greatest revelations of all time the place called earth isn t as big as one small farm boy found out the midwest boy sat next to his pa one night and learned of a very different kind of moon a liar s moon from that day forward from his divorce in tampa florida to the beautiful northwest in washington

he lives under the superstition skies while blaming the lore for his misfortune and uncertainties that hampered him at every important decision that went bad through all the love and pain and questionable romances at both ends of his years he struggled to make sense of them but the small world capped by the threatening moon and clouds of doubt can't stop a surprising outcome for all the fates follows society's search for immortality the exploration of what each of us would sacrifice if it meant that we could live forever changing societal values and reducing the importance of community has resulted in a society that continues to put the needs of the individual first the fates explores a society made up of those that put their needs ahead of all others versus those that believe the spiritual self is the destiny of all humans the conflict in a society and each individual that devalues the basic human characteristics that make each of us unique manifests itself in some devastating outcomes each day we are faced with decisions of what each of us value and what each of us will fight for the youth of today are influenced by increasingly uncontrolled and self centered ideas about how they should live the path is being set in our world where through media we are changing culture the fates at one time may have seemed like science fiction however with our increasing knowledge of genetics and our belief that immortality can only be obtained through science rather than spiritually or through the legacies we create to make our world a better place for future generations from how dracula manages to stay under the radar and avoid vampire hunters to his unique eating habits and tips for extending his life this book is sure to captivate readers from start to finish but that's not all delve deeper into the life of this enigmatic figure as dracula shares personal anecdotes about his first love and military successes you'll be spellbound as he talks about his hobbies and interests revealing a side of himself that few have ever seen before examining the links between today's ideas of radical life extension and age old notions of immortality from plato's notion of generation to derrida's concept of survival to such modern phenomena as anti aging treatments cryogenics cloning and whole brain uploads adam rosenthal's prosthetic immortilities shows how the dream of indefinite life has always been a technological one a matter of prosthesis he argues that every biological instance of perpetual life from one celled organisms to rejuvenating jellyfish to henrietta lacks's immortal cancer cells always results in the transformation of the original being there can therefore be no certainty of immortality yet because finite mortal life is already marked by difference division and change as rosenthal concludes the problem of immortality will not cease to haunt us prosthetic immortilities examines the persistence of humans aspirations of deathlessness showing that the link between immortalization and prostheticization is not unique to a single period but is rather a ubiquitous element of the discourse of immortality encompassing both modern technoscientific efforts and religious discourses of an afterlife rosenthal asks to what extent the emergence of a virtual posited immortal presence follows from the tenets of empirical science and not simply from the discourse of biology but also and more radically still from biological organization itself rosenthal ultimately argues that the discovery of biological immortals lifeforms that naturally have indefinitely long lifespans such as cancer cells and bacteria present novel conceptual difficulties for traditional philosophical approaches to mortality and selfhood asking whether it is life itself that first births immortalizing prostheses this is volume iii of eight in a collection on the philosophy of the mind and language originally published in 1925 this text looks at alternative theories of life and mind at the level of enlightened common sense the mind's knowledge of existents and the unconscious elias john wilkinson gibb 1857 1901 was a scottish orientalist who was born and educated in glasgow after studying arabic and persian he developed an interest in turkish language and literature especially poetry and in 1882 he published ottoman poems translated into english verse in the original forms this was a forerunner to the six volume classic presented here a history of ottoman poetry published in london between 1900 and 1909 gibb died in london of scarlet fever at the age of 44 and only the first volume of his masterpiece appeared before his death his family entrusted to his friend edward granville browne 1862 1926 a distinguished orientalist in his own right who had made a special study of babism the task of posthumously publishing the five remaining volumes browne characterized the work as one of the most important if not the most important critical studies of any muhammadan literature produced in europe during the last half century the first volume contains a long and compelling introduction by gibb on the entire subject in which he argues that ottoman poetry often rose and fell in tandem with ottoman power gibb divides ottoman poetry into two great schools the old or asiatic circa 1300 1859 which generally was characterized by its deference to persian influences and the new or european from 1859 onward which was influenced by french and other western poetry according to gibb the old or asiatic school went through a four periods a formative period 1300 1450 a period 1450 1600 in which works were modeled after the persian poet jami a period 1600 1700 dominated by the influences of persian poets urfi shirazi and sa ib tabrizi and a period of uncertainty that lasted until 1859 the european school that followed was inaugurated by ibrahim sinasi 1826 71 who in 1859 produced a small but momentous collection of french poetry translated into turkish verse the influence of the collection was far reaching and eventually changed the course of ottoman poetry gibb is known for his masterful translations that brilliantly render into english both the meaning and the form of ottoman persian and arabic poetry for almost a century after his death a family trust financed the gibb memorial series of editions and translations into english of arabic persian and turkish texts
