begins with an in depth history of the tactical urbanism movement and its place among other social political and urban planning trends with a detailed set of case studies that demonstrate the breadth and scalability of tactical urbanism interventions this book provides a detailed toolkit for conceiving planning and carrying out projects in certain parts of the world the founding of new towns and extensive urban development are still going ahead rapidly at the beginning of the twenty first century in europe on the other hand which already has a high degree of urbanization more cautious interventions into the urban structure are required by means of both permanent and temporary interventions attempts are being made to meet the complex requirements of a changing modern society the interdisciplinary cooperation of partners from different fields such as culture architecture and economics and the participation and initiatives of citizens play an important role in this this volume pursues the question of how individual projects not only stand out within the complexity of urban structures but can also bring about long lasting change this book presents 47 european examples from the urban intervention award berlin that showed quite surprising solutions and which received awards from the senate department for urban development and the environment in 2010 and 2013 publisher description cities often become the key battlefields in modern warfare resulting of course in human casualty and also in the wholesale destruction of urban structures afterwards when reconstruction commences it appears that the process follows strikingly similar patterns across the world using the examples of mostar in bosnia and herzegovina and kabul in afghanistan this volume asks is there a un urbanism this book is a striking collection of the personal often playful and thought provoking installations in urban environments that use and react to walls traffic signs trees ads and any and all elements of the modern city it is the first book to document these very current art projects as well as their interplay with fine art architecture performance installation activism and urbanism in a comprehensive way this perceptive work brings art to the masses and helps us to rediscover our every day surroundings it challenges us to question if the cities we have are the cities we need while adding a touch of magic to mundane places and situations the contemporary public domain the free space where culture is produced and exchanged is under pressure the exchange and distribution of cultural products content in the form of music image or text is easier in digital society but increasingly hemmed in by corresponding moves towards greater regulation and control new copyright laws and intellectual property policy instead of enjoying a free culture we are watching the emergence of what lawrence lessig calls a permission culture simultaneously as an aspect of broader privatization and regulation processes private entities are appropriating more and more of public culture and deciding what is made available or publicly accessible this issue of the dutch architectural journal open investigates the root causes of these developments how they interrelate and what the implications are for the free production and practice of culture as well as for the internal dynamics and balance of power in the public domain
