but dolly father will never give his consent you know that said a male voice behind the hawthorn hedge that skirted the deep sandy lane that led to heath farm the tone reproachful and irritating in which this was spoken was answered in a sweet calm voice until he gives his consent his frank free consent gilbert i cannot and will not be your wife you are just as obstinate as the old man ay and as proud but don t think for a moment gilbert that i blame your father were i in his place i might think just as he thinks if he has higher views for his son than a marriage with a nameless girl like me his son should be the last to find fault don t let love blind you to facts look them boldly in the face as i do i cannot forget what i am and what i owe to your father the happy life i have led here from a child made me forgetful of the great debt until and here the calm voice faltered the reproaches of last night brought it all fresh to my mind and i saw how ungrateful i had been to my benefactor in giving the least encouragement to you yes i shall not soon forget the cruel insult he put upon you it was mean and cowardly to say the least of it he might be proud to call you his daughter and his daughter you shall be in spite of him there are two words to that bargain and that voice now spoke sternly and decidedly two voices that speak in my heart the voice of love pleading for you the voice of conscience demanding of me to act rightly which shall i obey no answer was given to this appeal the speakers came forward to the stile the young farmer with the fork over his shoulder with which he had been making hay his companion a girl of seventeen with the rake in her hand her broad coarse straw hat dangling from her arm her raven ringlets thrown back from her fine sun burnt face which glowed with healthy exercise the lovers had been working together through the long june day this was the first time that either had spoken upon a subject that was uppermost in their thoughts which had lain like a heavy weight upon their hearts and rendered them unusually reserved to each other they had worked in silence and apart expecting the explanation which they knew must come which both wished yet each secretly dreaded and put off until the last moment as if by mutual consent the hay was all cocked they could no longer linger in the field and as they strolled homeward gilbert had broken the ice and spoken in such an abrupt and decided manner that it had aroused in his companion a spirit of resistance and confirmed her in the course which after long and painful consideration she had determined to adopt not to accept the hand of her lover against the wishes of his father the young people leant for a few minutes on the stile beneath the shade of a large ash tree the only tree of any magnitude in the heathy lane before them they would have made a good study for an artist had an artist been at hand to sketch them and their surroundings the sun had sunk behind the common fronting them which formed a steep ridge against the horizon and seemed to separate them from the rest of the world the road led to an old fashioned high gabled farm house at the foot of the hill the only tenement visible from that lonely spot the marble image of hubert van eyck stood out against the warm blue sky and cast a slanting shadow across the sunlit flags the july afternoon was drawing to a close low sunlight shone golden on the canals of villebrumeuse and changed every westward looking window into a casement of gold those are no common windows which look out upon the quiet streets and lonely squares of that sleepy belgian city no handiwork of modern speculative builder is visible amid that grand old architecture no flimsy nineteenth century villa perks its tawdry head among those mediæval splendours no upstart semi detached abominations of spurious gothic picked out with rainbow coloured brick affright the eye by their hideous aspect to live in villebrumeuse is to live in the sixteenth century a quiet calm as of the past pervades the shady streets green trees reflect themselves in the still waters of the slow canal which creeps athwart the city and by the side of the tranquil waters there are pleasant walks over shadowed by the umbrage of limes and wooden benches whereon the peaceful citizens may repose themselves in the evening dusk in despite of its solemn tranquillity this villebrumeuse is not a dreary dwelling place if it has drifted from amidst the busy places of this earth if the blustrous ocean of modern progress has receded from its shores leaving it far away across a level waste of reef and sand this quiet city has at the worst been left stationary while the noisy tide sweeps on with all its tumult of success and failure its prosperous ventures and forgotten wrecks the peace which pervades villebrumeuse is the tranquillity of slumber and not the awful stillness of death there is a jog trot prosperity in the place a comfortable air which is soothing to the world worn spirit but the wrestling and scuffling and striving and struggling of modern commerce is unknown among the quiet merchants who content themselves with supplying the simple wants of their fellow citizens in the simplest fashion and yet this city was once a mart to which the orient brought her richest merchandise and in the days gone by these quaint old squares have been clamorous with the voices of many traders and bright with the holiday raiment of busy multitudes a young englishman walked slowly up and down the broad flagged square across which the painter's statue cast its sombre shadow he was teacher of english and mathematics in a great public academy near at hand and his name was eustace thorburn for three years he had held his post in the villebrumeuse academy for three years he had done his duty quietly and earnestly to the satisfaction of every one concerned in the performance and yet he was something of an enthusiast and something of a poet and possessed many of those attributes which are commonly supposed to constitute a letter of license for the neglect of vulgar every day duties that was an ardent and an ambitious spirit which shone out of eustace thorburn's gray eyes but if the fiery sword had chafed the scabbard a little during three years of academical routine and villebrumeuse monotony the young man had been patient and contented withal there was a public library in villebrumeuse to which the tutor had free entrance and in the mediæval chambers of this institution his leisure had been spent that dreamy idleness amongst good books had been very pleasant to him his work in the academy was endurable despite its tedious and laborious nature and he had a lurking tenderness for the quaint old city the slow canals overshadowed by green trees the simple people and the old world customs thus if there were times when theeager spirit would fain have soared to loftier and fairer regions the young student and teacher had not been altogether unhappy since his destiny had brought him to this place to earn his bread amongst strangers amongst strangers were the inhabitants of this belgian city any more strange to him than all the other inhabitants of this populous earth except the one man and woman who made the sum total of his kindred and friends amongst strangers why if the statue of van eyck could have descended from yonder pedestal to walk in the streets of the city the animated effigy could scarcely have been a lonelier creature than the young man who passed to and fro athwart the sloping shadow on the flags this july afternoon
